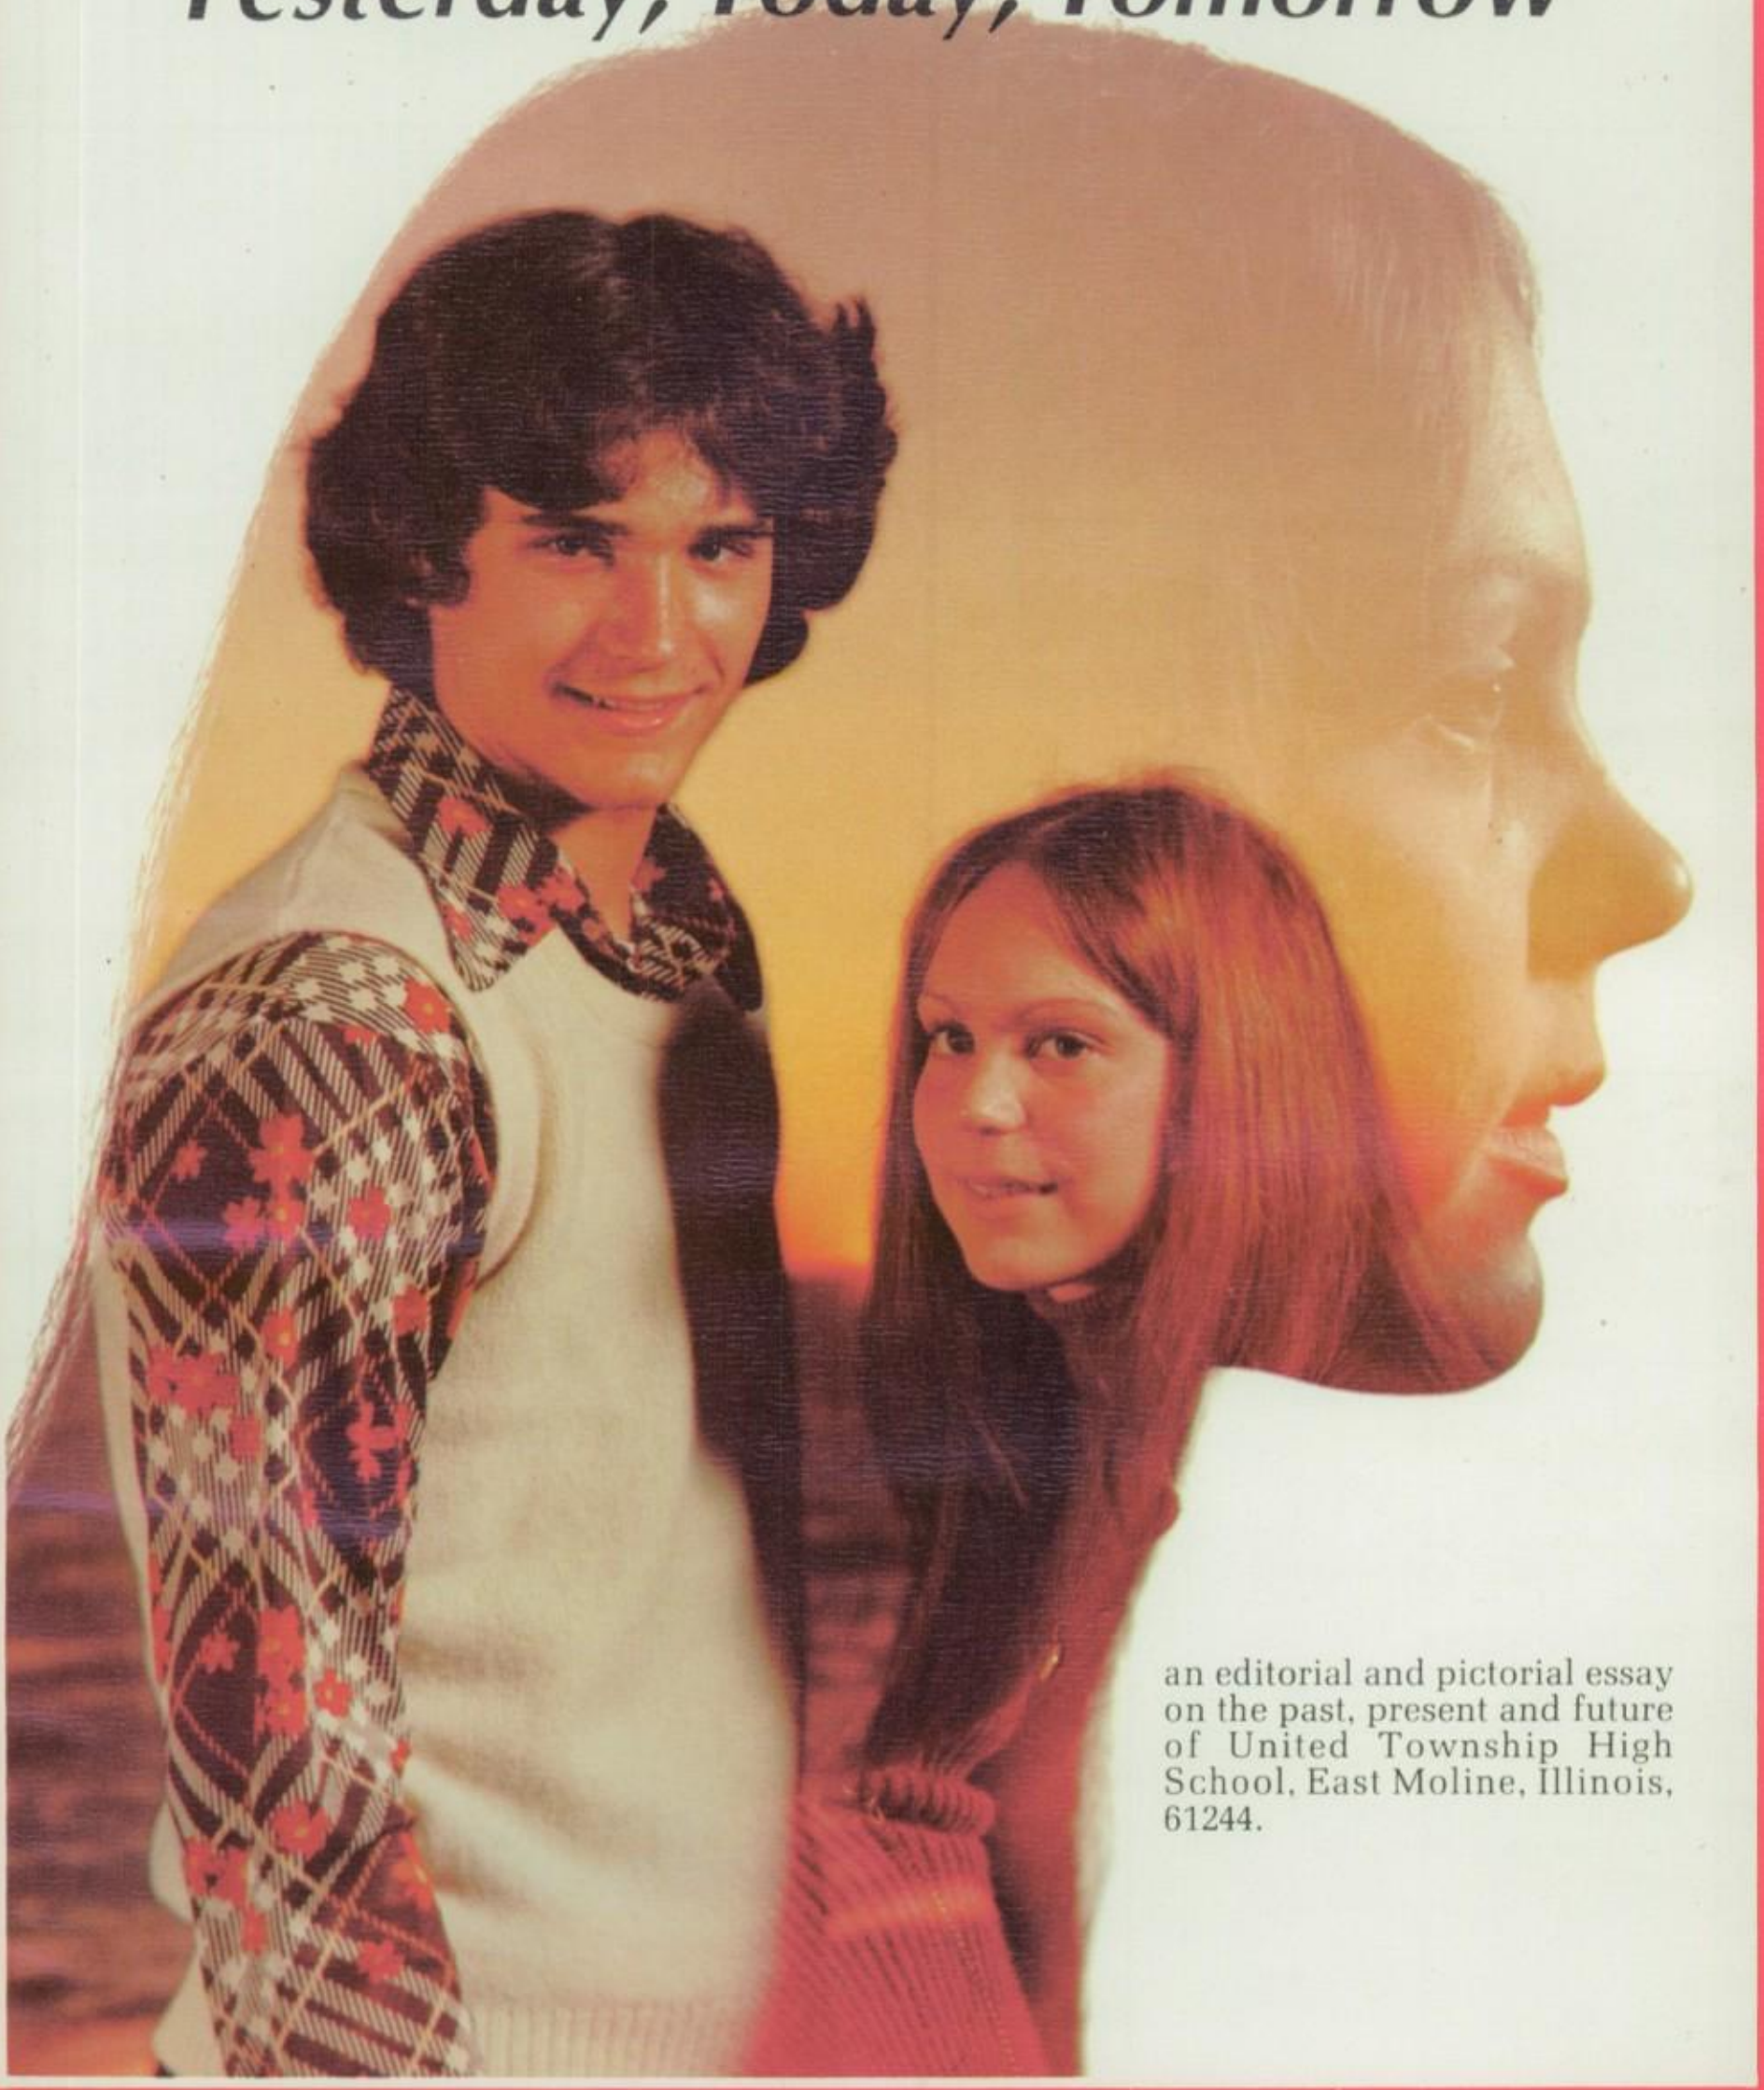
Yesterday, Today, Tomorrow



an editorial and pictorial essay on the past, present and future of United Township High School, East Moline, Illinois, 61244.

Beginnings

From humble beginnings as an extension of elementary education, United Township High School has grown into a complex and comprehensive four year high school with one of the finest Area Vocational Centers in the state as part of it's facilities.

The population has reflected periods of immense growth and need for additional buildings. The story has been one of success and problems.

The original set of buildings we know as North Campus, housed the school from 1916 until 1960, seeing additions added in 1920, 1922, 1930, 1937, 1940, and 1947.

Bulging at the seams in 1959, the school became excited anticipating a move to a beautiful and modern building about to open.

The junior-senior building, called South Campus, opened in 1960 with 776 students.

Mushrooming growth pushed the two schools to capacity much earlier than anticipated and a 1968 referendum for a second freshman-sophomore building, to be located in Silvis, was defeated by township taxpayers. This blow to the growth of UTHS necessitated radical changes in traditional scheduling.

Early and late classes tacked on to the regular day and bussing between campuses led to a major policy change when North Campus went on a split schedule day with two five hour periods, from 7 a. m. until noon and noon until 5 p. m.

Early graduation, removal of most study halls, added classrooms and library space, and a modified open lunch schedule has eased the effects of overpopulation at South Campus. But before the anticipated leveling off of this geographical area, which won't be for several years, future decisions may change the philosophy of the UTHS school district even further. Pilot studies on a flexible "year round school" with rotating tracks of 45 days in school and 15 days out may be another alternative to the skyrocketing costs of another school building.

The First School

What was school like in the early years? Without a building to call its own, meager was an adequate descriptive phrase.

The first UTHS classes were only an extension of elementary and junior high education in the old Lincoln school, the building on Seventeenth Avenue, torn down a few years ago to provide the site for the present International Harvester Credit Union.

In 1912, the first graduate completed her class work for graduation. This lady's name was Verna Parrott. When Miss Parrott began her career at UTHS her class was composed of five people, three girls and two boys. The four dropped out before completing the requirements for graduation. Miss Parrott lived in the immedidate area until her death in the 1960's.

Early development in the school saw a music department organized by Miss Beck in 1910, who had taught in the EM grade schools all her teaching life prior to the move to the new building.

Athletics started slowly around 1912 at the same time, competing for popularity with the debating society.

Although graduating classes were very small in early years, the school began to adopt its own personality. Early class sizes were: 1913—5, 1914—4, 1915—3, 1916—3, and 1917—5. It wasn't until the twenties that any substantial numbers graduated.

Verna Parrott

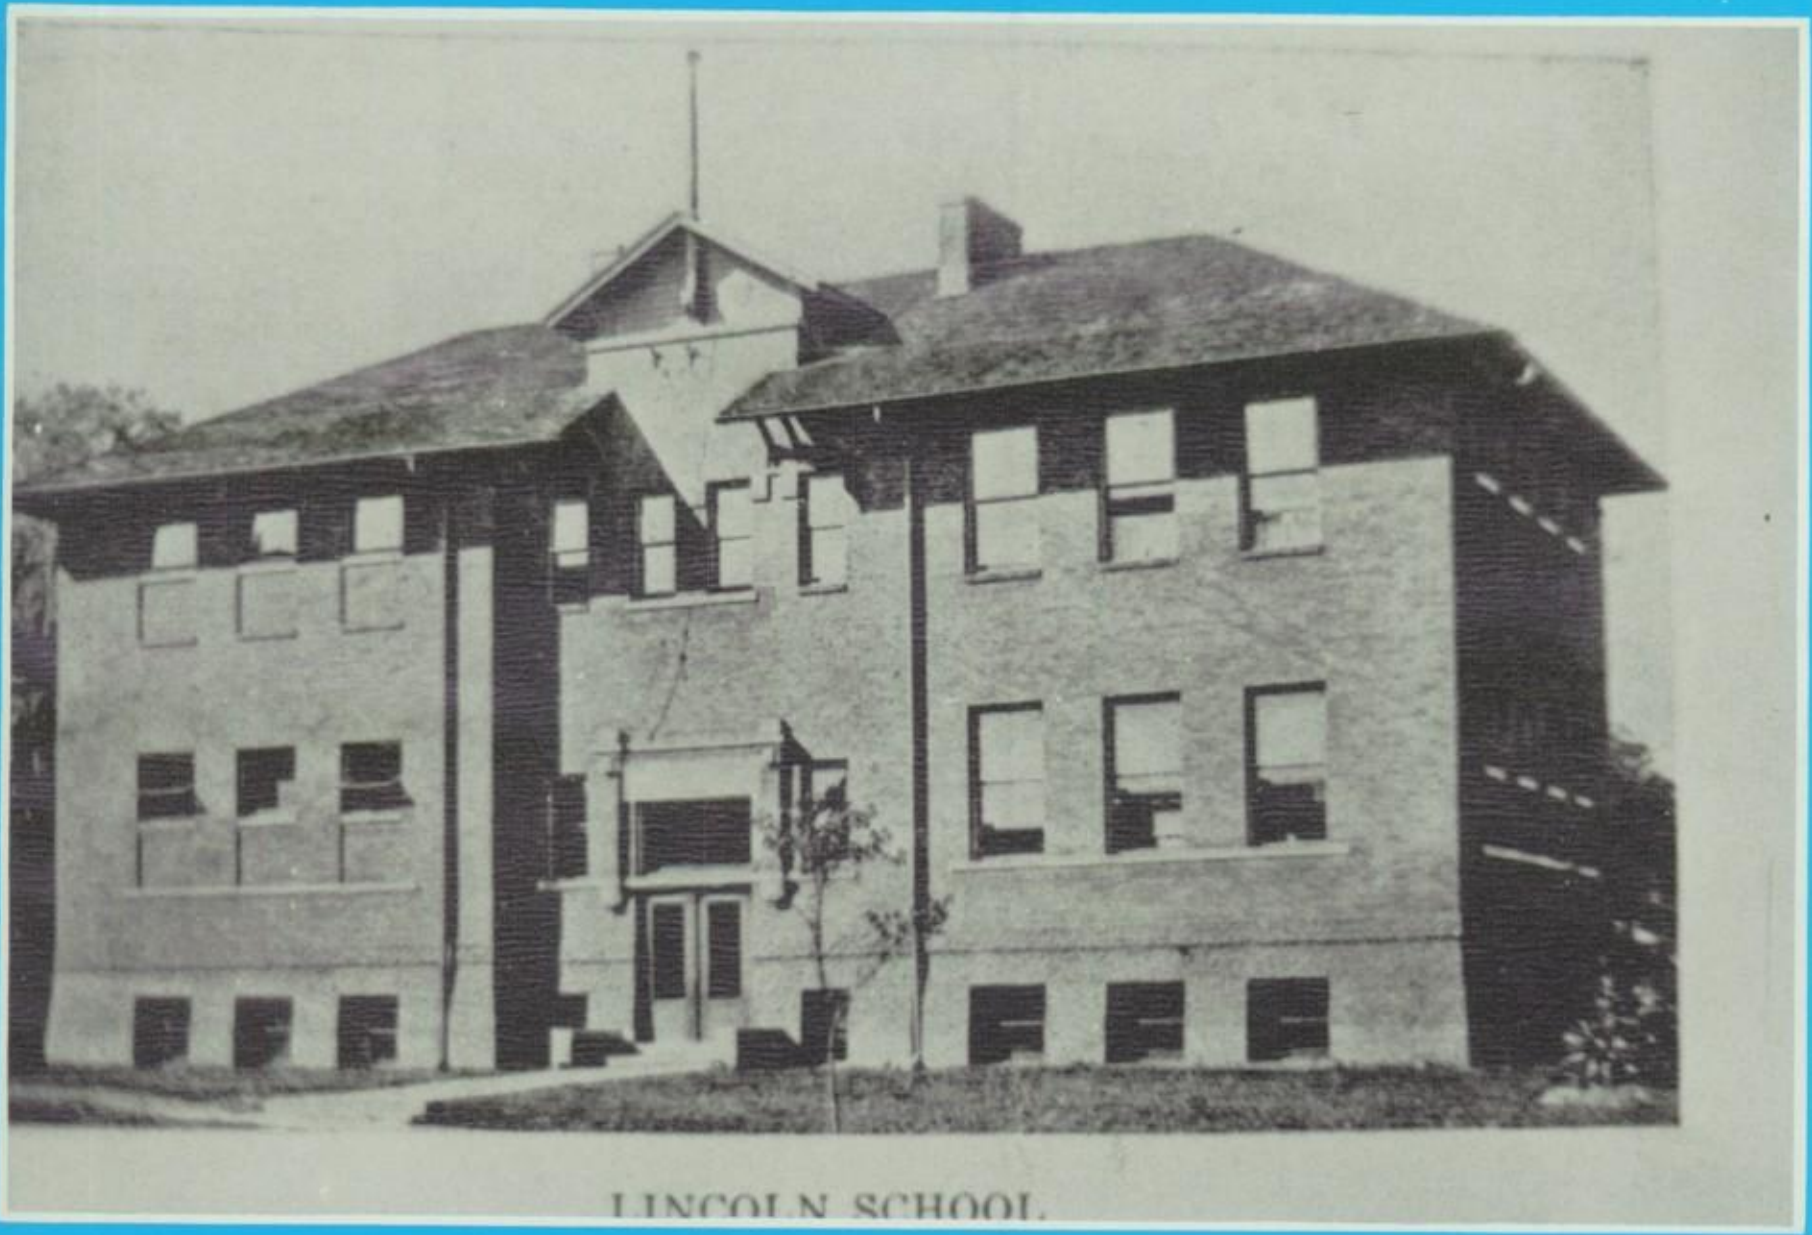
"To The Orange And Black"

The original school song first appeared in 1918.

"Come each loyal student of East Moline High
Come join in our song and our school glorify;
We're full of high spirits, good fellows are we,
We're proud of our school and always will be.

To the Orange and Black we'll always be true
We'll stand by our school to the end;
We'll ever be ready to fight and to do,
And a challenge to each one extend.
No school can compare with our East Moline High
We tackle all contests with vim;
Our banner is flung to the limitless sky
We'll never let its glory dim.

(For) youth will be served for ever and aye,
Our spirit of loyalty never can die;
We're conquerors all in the contest of life,
Each ready to meet with success or with strife."



LINCOLN SCHOOL

The first school classes were held in the old Lincoln School building.

North Campus

A large building was going up on a bluff in East Moline. Completed in 1916, the original UTHS flourished and has since seen 17 separate successful referendums and expansions. Five tracts of land were submitted as possible locations for the school originally. Size and central location were credited as the reasons for picking this one as the new high school site.

The first building consisted of fourteen rooms within three stories (a basement and a first and second floor). It was designed for a student body of 200. In 1920 a vocational education department was added onto the lower level. Two additional floors were erected above this area, and commercial subjects were offered. In 1937 the auditorium and gym were built. Another floor, to house a cafeteria and several classrooms, was completed in 1940. At the time of this final addition the student capacity had increased to 1500, 300 students over capacity.

Noteworthy historical events which took place during the early years at United Township High School include:

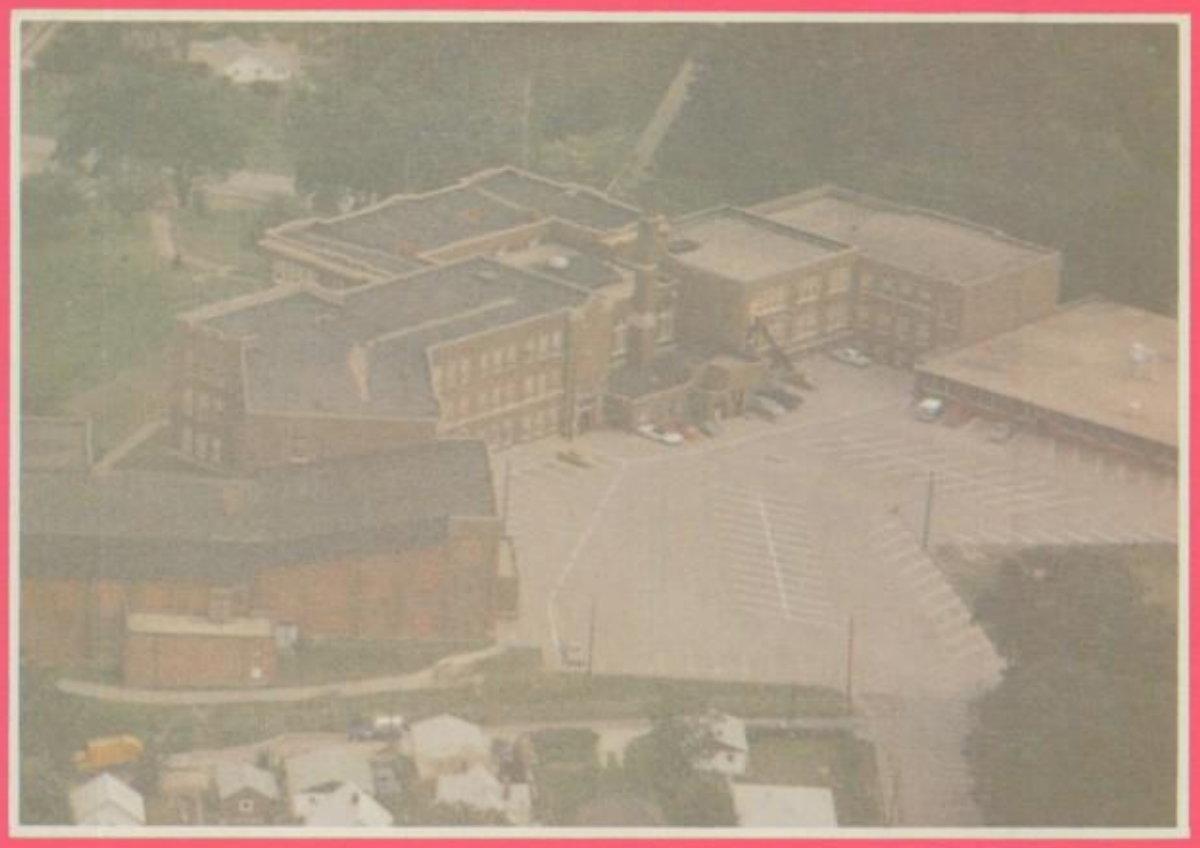
1917—First yearbook publication compiled and bound for students. Then known as The Key, it was illustrated as an actual key which was associated with The Key to Knowledge. The first publication said: "The Key opens the door admitting its readers into the secrets and mysteries of high school life."

1917—This same year, The North Central Association accredited UTHS as a full-fledged academic institution.

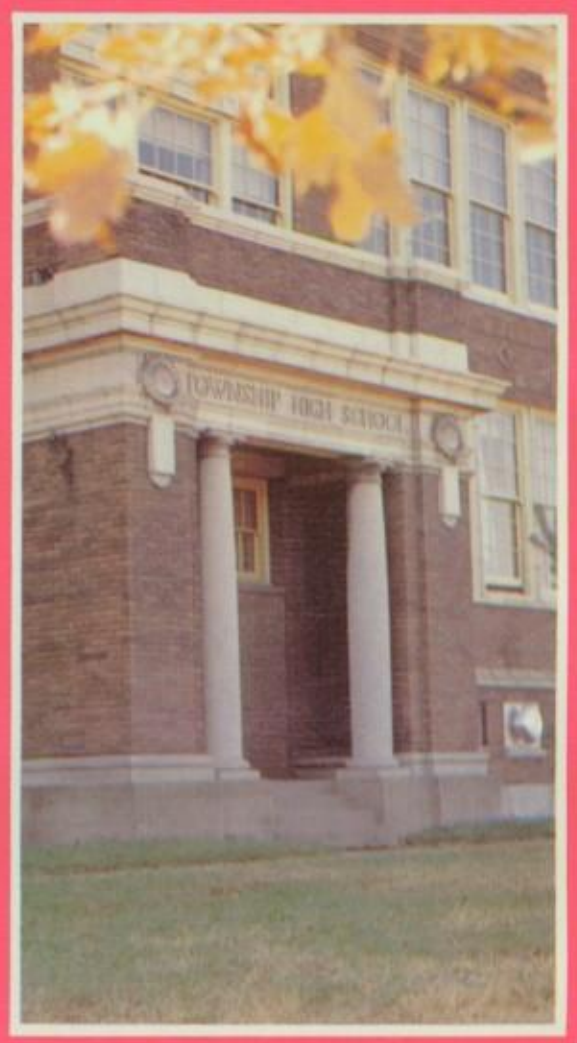
1918—The original school song was written entitled "To The Orange and Black." The words and music were composed by Superintendent Castro.

1924—The school paper originally named "Hi Tatler" became "The Key."

The original United Township High School building looked like this.



Original UTHS facilities include North Campus and Soule Bowl seen from the air. A fall day's splendor is all that remains on a little used front entrance, now more of a back entrance.



1931—The yearbook which was formerly The Key, became the Skyline. The name and drawing for the yearbook cover was created by Ramona Allen.

1947—The bus garage at North Campus was built.

1949—The school elected its first Homecoming Royalty, and oddly enough they were brother and sister.

Queen—Gloria "Sis" Dailey

King—Chuck Dailey

By 1958, the enrollment of students at UTHS had increased so much that it was inevitable a new school must be built. Completed in 1960, the new building left North Campus a mere shell with only freshmen and sophomores in attendance.

This excess of space was short-lived with over-population forcing a bond issue proposal in 1968 for an additional frosh-soph building in Silvis. A resounding defeat of the plan left UT with drastic situation which has plagued the school right up to the present. Class extension began in 1969 with "early-bird" starting at 7 a.m. Early-bird and additional late-bird classes continued until the only alternative was split schedule. North Campus has just completed its second year on split shifts.

Going to school from 7 a.m. to noon and noon until 5 p.m., no lunch, no studyhall, no freshmen elective, no time to talk to friends caused much grief to everyone involved, but when you play number games with students, expediency comes first most of the time and individual choice takes a back seat.

Several alternative scheduling plans are presently under consideration for the future.

South Campus

It is hard to believe by looking at it that the South Campus building, located on the acreage at 42nd Avenue and Archer Drive, is 15 years old.

Housing juniors and seniors since its opening in the fall of 1960, it has maintained full functionality and an elegance all its own.

With the exception of the Area Vocational Center which sprouted off the Administrative wing, South Campus has been altered only slightly to provide additional classes, media and materials center, and new physical education and wrestling space.

The Nov. 13, 1960 Open House Dedication booklet echoed with pride the "super facilities" story. With room for 1200 originally, 776 students had plenty of room to enjoy South that first year.

The student population surpassed capacity in less than eight years and the defeat of an expansion plan, part of the unsuccessful '68 building referendum, has left UTHS with a touch-and-go situation on the scheduling of students.

Longer days, early graduations, modified schedule, flexible class loads has eased the over-crowding of the seventies. Administrators are keeping a close watch on the future, readying the best possible alternative to provide a complete educational opportunity to all students within the school district.

Some of the memorable moments in the new building include:

1960—Extra room provides classroom space for overflow elementary schools.

1966—Exchange assemblies between Quad City high schools gave talented students a chance to sing and dance.

1969—Human Relations Council sponsors very successful Cultural Festival—students enjoy sampling of food and heritage from many lands and many people.

1970—Top rated basketball Panthers win 30 games before losing out to LaGrange in Illinois state championship.

1971—Concert Choir become world travelers while winning International Choral Festival Title in Rome.

1974—Cafeteria closes down hot lunch program as school adopts "open" lunch period.

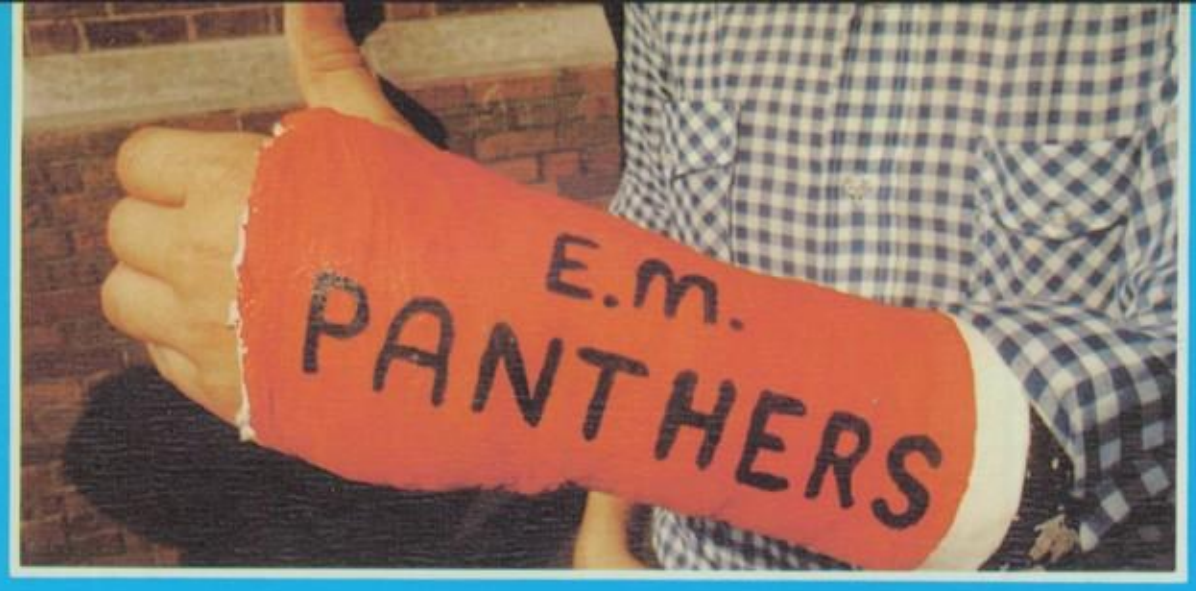
School Spirit

A Panther can be many things to a school—we see it as a name decoration on team uniforms, part of an engraving on a school ring, as a cartoon illustration in the school paper, as a symbol on the yearbook cover, as a clever design on a spirit button, on a plaque in front of the school building, as an in-laid mosaic on the tile floor, painted on athletic facility walls, and in the flesh as the school mascot.

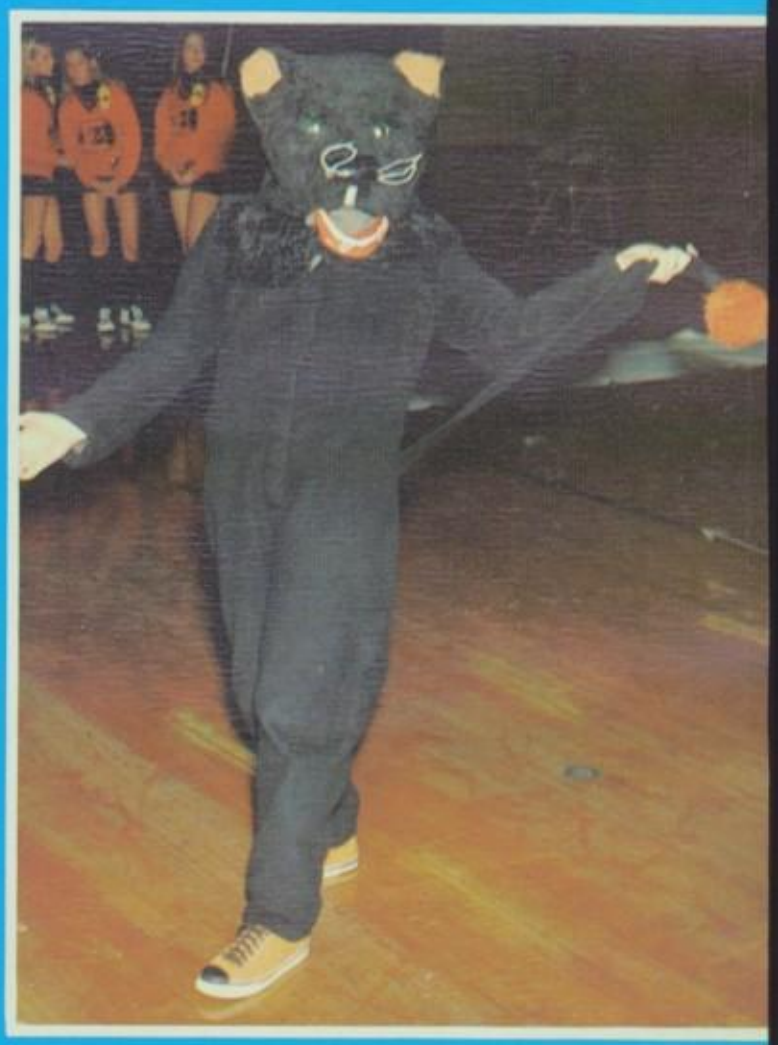
East Moline was known as the "Hilltoppers" for many years because of the geographical location of the first high school building.

In a 1946 election, the student body voted to adopt the "Panther" as a school nickname which could be used in illustration and reality. "Pete" was an immediate success and through the years, carried on the spirit of UTHS. Although he has seen many changes both serious and lighthearded, Pete has won our hearts as he truly is the "Spirit of UTHS."

Pete made his first live appearance as a mascot in 1956. The collage below shows some of the many "Petes" through the years.



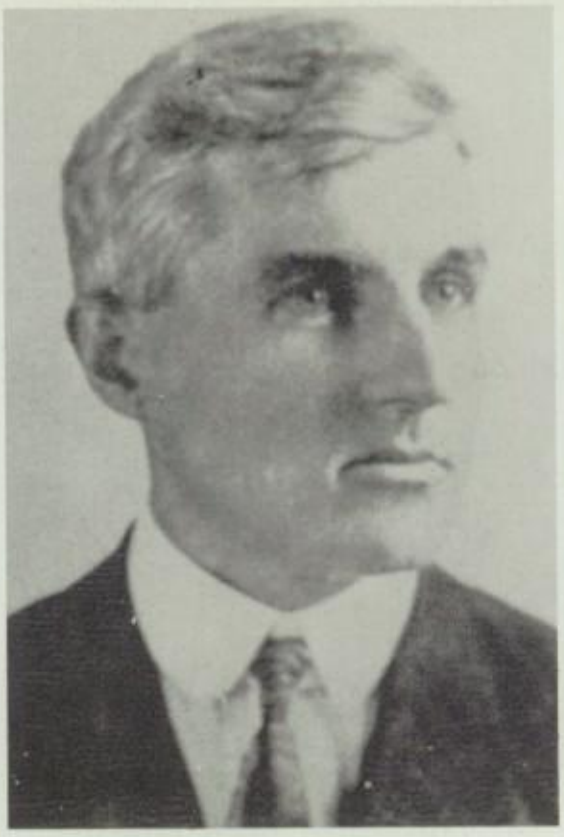
Pete as first depicted in '47 yearbook.



The spirit of the Panthers has been displayed in many ways. This year's mascot is Debbie Ogburn. Although Pete's identity changes yearly the spirit always remains.

D. B. Hoffman (1914-1916)

Mr. Hoffman was superintendent of East Moline grade school and under his direction, High School level classes were formed in the old Lincoln School.



E. D. Abbott (1916-1919)

Mr. Abbott was never officially listed as a superintendent, but doubled as principal and served in a capacity of total leadership of the school.

J. W. Castro (1919-1926)

Mr. Castro was the first official superintendent and served during the early growth of UTHS. He wrote the words and music to the old school song "To The Orange And Black."

L. F. Fulwiler (1926-1929)

Mr. Fulwiler served for only a very short time of three years in the original building.

C. L. McCreight (1960-1965)

C. L. McCreight served as the first superintendent of both North and South Campuses.

James Sandilos (1965-1967)

An Area Vocational program, as well as the first high school Aviation Science Program in Illinois, began under Mr. Sandilos.

Edward L. Hill (1967-Present)

Mr. Hill came to UTHS from the elementary district and has been able to hold the line on budgeting to avoid any tax increase.

Lee O. Dawson (1929-1960)

Recognized as the single-most guiding force in the successful growth of UTHS, Mr. Dawson still remains active in area service work.

NUMBER OF STUDENTS IN ATTENDANCE

Periods of growth at UTHS are traced in 10 year intervals, with the exception of the first eight years and the last five. Present studies show that the school continue to show steady growth until it levels off in the early 1980's.

The Future

Where does the school go from here? Although many successes have been enjoyed over the years, questions are still unanswered. The directions to be taken now will affect many young people.

Looking back at 1974-75, work was completed on an addition to the rear of the gymnasium area at South Campus. Additional custodial services and receiving space was built in addition to a new physical education instruction area and wrestling room.

In addition, for most of this year the administration and school board studied and weighed alternatives in scheduling and space problems. UTHS seriously looked at a year round plan, new building addition, or the busing of some North Campus students to a renovated John Deere Elementary School Building. The administration kept close tabs on the following information. Although South Moline and Hampton Twps., the two townships feeding the school, will be Rock Island County's biggest growth area, administrators anticipate enrollment to hold steady for the next few years.

By 1976, UTHS should grow slightly to a maximum 3,234, but fall off gradually to around 2,800 in the early 1980's. Attendance won't rise again until approximately 1985. This study sees a North Campus reduction from 1,702 this year to a low of 1,360 in 1981 before the climb begins once more. These figures are based on current enrollments in UTHS feeder districts.

Construction this year took place behind South Campus. Storage area and a new wrestling room, which was begun in November, is now near completion.

This 16-page section is published by Skyline staff of United Township High School, East Moline, Illinois, to pay tribute to our heritage and acknowledge the upcoming publishing date of a book recounting the history of UTHS. The book, compiled by former Superintendent L. O. Dawson and present Assistant Superintendent of Curriculum Alvar T. Berghult, served as a source for this section and Skyline is indebted to these two educators for their help. An interesting note is that Jean Huber, the Skyline staffer editing this section, is a niece of UTHS' first graduate Verna Parrot.

Our mascot Pete, the frisky Panther who first made his debut in the 1947 Skyline to tell the story of UTHS, is back. Pete's our voice and is your host to tell the UT story for 1974-75. He'll reminisce about the good old days, recall the year just completed and forecast days to come while you enjoy a complete meal at our own "Skyline Inn." Hurry and finish your meal—Pete, the audience is waiting.

Pete Presents The UT Story of Yesterday Today Tomorrow

In case you don't recognize me, the name is PETER PANTHER. You might call me the spirit of UTHS. Representing all the things that are combined to have a smooth working, well-organized school, I'm here to conduct you personally on a trip though my favorite school — United Township High School — to show you what we've done this year. Well, if you're ready now, let's go!

"Back in 1947, when I got my first break."

Skyline: Well Pete, when did you first get your big chance at UTHS?

Pete: Back in 1947 I first became the "spirit" of the school. Since then, I've been kicking around at the assemblies and ball games and stuff.

Skyline: What did you look like back in '47?

Pete: I thought I was a real cool cat —kind of smart although still wet behind the ears. There's a picture from the '47 Skyline so you could see me in my younger days.

Skyline: How did you get hired to make a comeback in the '75 annual.

Pete: Well, the staff was digging back in the history searching for tidbits to tell the full story of UTHS. Well, word got out they were laughing at that first picture of me, like I was a bowl of prunes or something, so I decided to straighten them out.

Skyline: What did you say to them?

Pete: It's not nice to make fun of an old Panther who's out of work. Sympathetic and desperate for good help, they signed me up, but they still make fun of my cousin "Pink" on TV every Saturday.

Skyline: What's this book got to do with eating?

Pete: Well, we've divided the different areas of the yearbook up like the courses of a meal and put them on a menu. I'm the host for everyone's visit to this year's Skyline Inn. You hungry?

Skyline: Shakespeare talked about eating and digesting good literature once. Is that what you mean here?

Pete: That's the woodgrain design for the cover and division pages—reminds me of the taste of wild hickory—.

Skyline: Groan!

Pete: Get's the job done tho, doesn't it! Oh well, turn the page, and I'll get on with the story of UT.

Split Schedule Again;Detention Room Returns

If I would have to describe the year in a few words, I don't think I could do it. It was a year of smiles and big disappointments. Recounting some of the events on the claws of my paw, first off I think of the schedule. We weathered another year of 7-12 and 12-5 shifts for freshmen and sophomores, while juggling discussions of year round school, renting and fixing up an empty grade school building, while trying to secure aid money which could be directed toward construction in an overcrowded school district.

Self-scheduling was fine except for big classes during the morning and early afternoon and small ones late in the day. Rather than giving problem students the boot for a day off, second semester saw the school send offenders to in-school suspension for one hour or more depending on the case.

Many times, I don't know where we're going, but I do know we are going somewhere.

1. Split schedule at North Campus will be continued for another year until an alternate plan can alleviate drastic overcrowding.

2. News media and Secretary of State Micheal Howlett honor Jim Shaw, winner of statewide acclaim for his prize winning Illinois Bicentennial license plate design.

3. What's an empty study hall good for? Second semester at North it became an "in school detention room" to cope with truancy and disorderly students.

4. A new requirement for all Seniors was to rotate in three twelve-week sessions of consumer education.

5. A student course selection booklet was supposed to make things go smoother in the first full year of self registration, but . . .

6. Regular UTHS teachers boycotted what they called a "sub-standard" summer school, but the regular school year opened with no problems.

Cafeteria Drops Meals For Burgers

When I was but a wee-little Panther cub, my stomach occasionally growled louder than I did. It was then that I really appreciated UT's hot-lunch program.

The years went by, and as I became accustomed to the noon meals, a policy change occurred (in the second semester of last year) which eliminated the dinners.

This change was brought on after the students were allowed to leave school during their lunch hour, thus lending a drastic reduction in the amount of meals sold. Because of the subsequent financial difficulties, the program had to be discontinued.

This year, meals were again sold when Servomation, an independent firm, was given the green light to serve hot food. Included in their menu was the Panther Burger, of which I was guaranteed did not contain any of my relatives, other sandwiches, french fries and a variety of other short order foods.

Even though it was good while it lasted, the green light turned red, as did the program's financial state.

After Servomation's denial for subsidy from the School Board in February, its' contract was withdrawn in March.

Well, it's back to the drawing board, as the knowledge has been gained that when a Panther is let free, it runs. Back to the vending machines.

1. Hot food was available at South Campus again this year. Waiting in line are Kathy Sullivan, Kim Lovell, Kevin Ricke and Ann Goar.

2. More vending machines with higher prices. An alternative for many—when they aren't out of your favorite thing.

4.

2. Today's menu and special.

3. Candy choices—quick energy in a hurry.

4. Wow—change back from a dollar for Janet Laethem and Anne Davis.

Staff, Students Nostalgic About Good Old Days

Remember those good old days? You bet I do. Many people don't scoff anymore when they see people returning to old ways. Many students and faculty restore older cars not only as a hobby, but because of how solidly they were built.
With the soaring food costs and growing menace of pollution, people are becoming gardeners for the first time. UT teachers, Mr. Hall and Mr. Woller, revitalized the biology room greenhouse this year to beautify the school and to promote student awareness of horticulture.

Biology room greenhouse comes alive with many assortments of vegetation under the care of Mr. Hall and Mr. Woller.

Two of the nicest older restored cars at UTHS are owned by Bill Minas and Mike Burns.

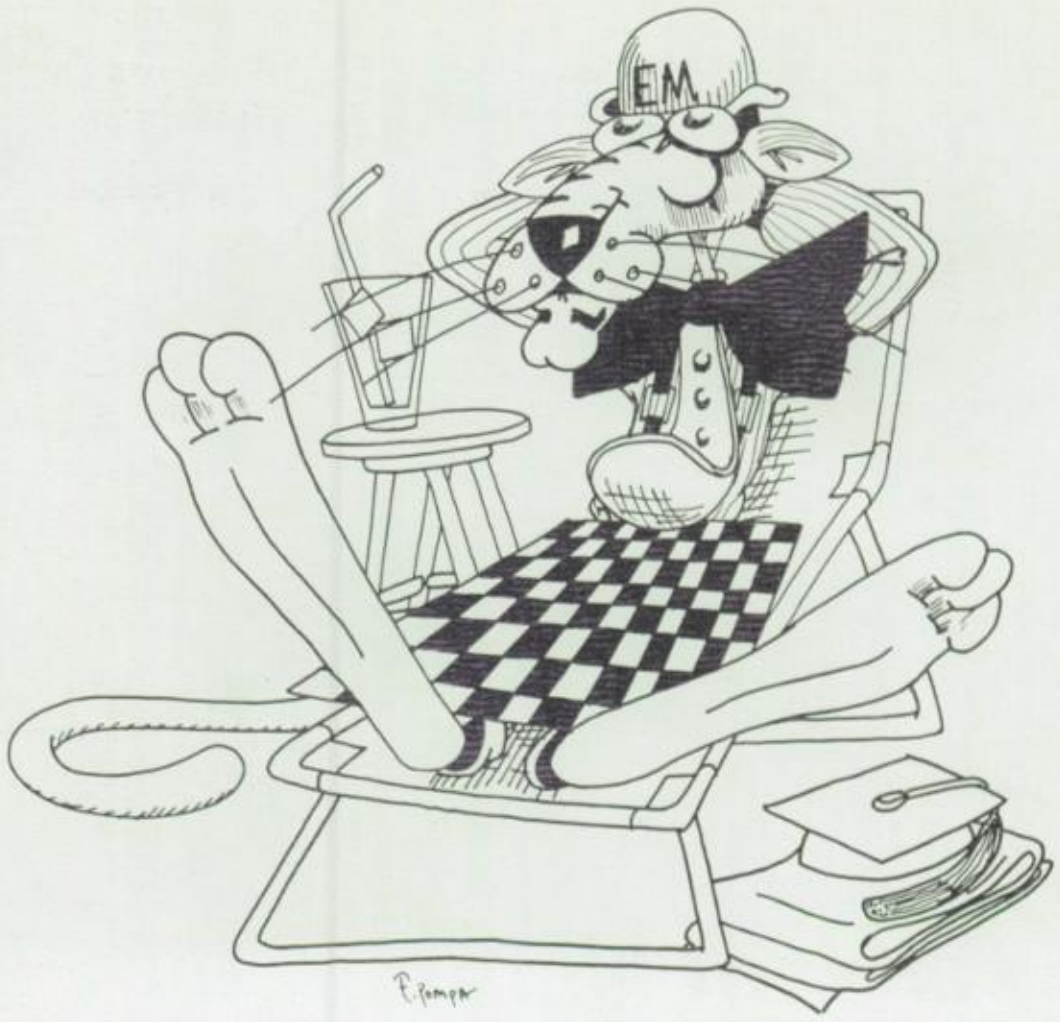
Escape At Last For Seniors After 4 Years



You clever cats you. You made it—four years of splendor and disappointment. It was a long road which some finished earlier yet some took a bit longer, but the ones that do graduate are often ready to spring upon the world with eagerness and hope for better things to come. Where will five years from now find you? Will you assemble once again for the class reunion or will your new freedom lead you too far from the Panthers lair you called home for several years? Goodbye class of 1975.

Seniors Pick 'Stanley Cup' Winners Early

I'm proud to say that for the first time in Skyline history, winners of the Stanley Cup Awards have been pictured in the yearbook. 'Stanley Cup' is the title given to the popularity awards each year named after the principal. Staged by the publication staffs, the entire senior class is given the opportunity to vote. As the votes are tallied the winner is chosen from each category. In the event that a person gets chosen for two or more awards, they are given the recognition for the one that they win by the biggest margin. Previous to this year voting took place at the end of school. But this year the publication staffs held the voting immediately after the semester change, allowing the results to get into the yearbook, lending to a more complete Senior remembrance.

Art Council Continues Work; Club Flounders

With the honorary name Pete "Picasso" the Panther, I was very pleased to see two fine organizations dealing with art, drawn up at UT. The groups were Art Club and Art Council.

Art Council began in 1970-71, and have been mainly responsible for the contributions of artwork at South Campus. Their projects included fund raising, the contribution of a painting and another sculpture to the school.

Art club began about 17 years ago, and gather for fun as well as practical knowledge. They made a wall mural with a bicentennial theme and hope to eventually build a larger one. They went to Chicago and various other places of interest, with the Davenport Art Gallery as their favorite venture.

Standing: Mrs. Corinne Bartlett, Randy DeDecker, Bud Sagen, Jan Miller, Deanna Piersall, Diane Harmening, Linda Williams, Shelley Fredricks, Carroll Sweimline, Connie DeGryse, Mike Ortiz and Mike Cummings. Above: Ron Adams and JoAnn Cummings.

Art Council sold class keys to Seniors as a fund raiser and momento.

Tri Mic Keeps Active Calendar All Year Long

When I was first introduced to the Vocational classes, there was a lot of work and no big social aspect. Tri Mic has changed all that. Coming from the tri of triangle and mic of micrometer, the organization has expanded from it's 1948 beginning. I can admire this club because it is one of the most active at UT. This year alone Tri-Mic members and Co-Sponsors Mr. Gary Pregracke and Mr. Harold Knox held a car rally, went bowling, had an indoor rec night, went on several picnics, went sledding and inner tubing, held a bicycle race and organized a "Wall of Fame" of outstanding drafting students in the past years.

00 Students Learn In Class And On Job

I can type a little, but my paws often get in the way. To be honest, my office skills are very limited. Office Occupations comes in there, for the student who wishes to have an office career in our Business oriented society. The members worked for half a day in an office and in addition attended their classes at UT. Working made the students understand more clearly what the job was really like.

Beside the work, they did have a lot of fun and other activities. They had many sales for fund raising, they attended a State contest in Springfield, took several field trips, went to banquets and even had time for a skating party.

Despite the many activities, it will be the training that will live on as these students become more proficient in the business world.

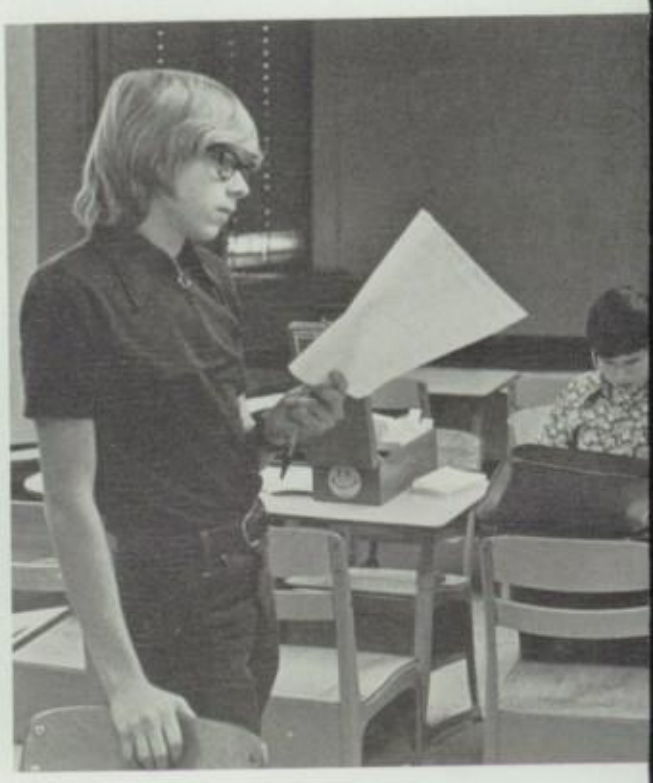
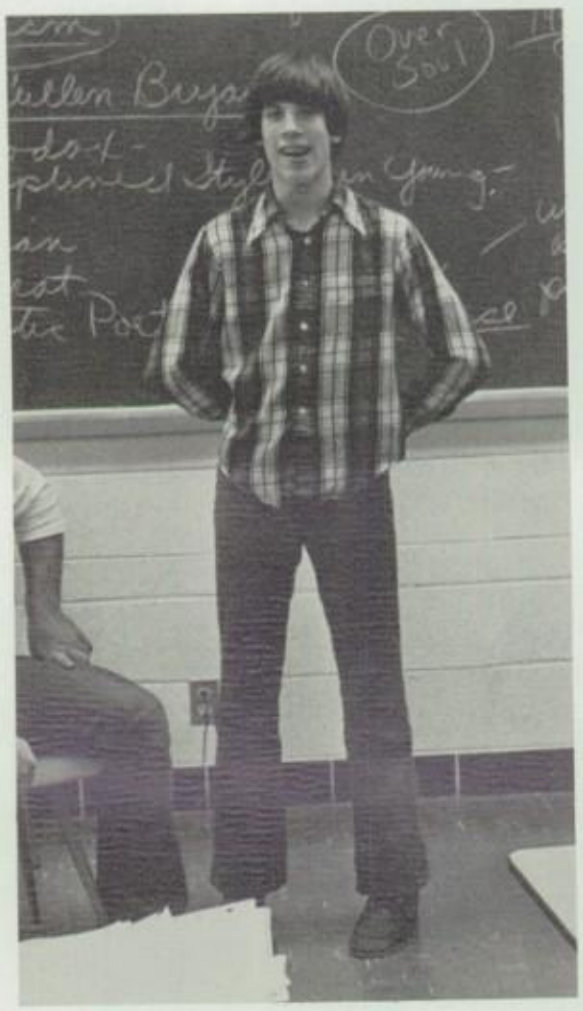
UTHS Hosts New Forensic League Meet

Readers Theatre interpretation of "This is E. E. Cummings" took a first place award in competition during the first Northwestern Illinois Forensics Conference Tournament.



Like most Panthers, I am inhibited in one way or another; often times it is when I get in front of other people. That's why Forensics has been really helpful. It has different categories to participate in and whether you enjoy humor, debate, prose, poetry, readers theatre, the one-act play, oratory, or one of any other number of divisions, speech can become a real benefit. This year the Panther speakers hosted their annual fall speech festival, attended several major tournaments and were host school for the first Northwestern Illinois Interscholastic Forensics Conference, which included East Moline, Galesburg, Geneseo, Moline, Rock Island and Sterling.

Whether you're a dynamic speaker, an intellectual genius or just a plain old Pete the panther, this club can build confidence and at the very least help you to communicate effectively in a world centered around communication.



Bill Frey was tops in the individual speech events category of original comedy winning several awards.

GAA deserves applause for getting interscholastics off the ground. In fact, the interscholastics' success is beginning to kill GAA off. It gives me grief to see a club have as rough a time as GAA did early this year. The inavailability of times for people to participate was a major problem for GAA to overcome.

The girls' efforts to have a more formal affair in the Mother-Daughter tea succeeded and the candle-light ceremony may become a lasting tradition. Many took part in a swimming party while a Barn Dance took place of the semi-formal this spring. A clever way to keep the boys happy —dancing in the comfort of Levis.

Honor Society Inducts New Members April 23

As Honor Society came about, I thought that it was for those who got the good grades; I found out otherwise. To be a part of Honor Society they must first be chosen. In addition they must not only have good grades but attributes such as character, must have been of service to their school and community, have integrity and leadership qualities. The club is not an organization of activities but is a post of honor for the members and their achievements.

▲ Representatives from all Ethnic groups at UTHS discuss problems during regular monthly meeting.

Human Relation Committee Gets Very Late Start

We as Panthers have different ideals and contrary feelings on certain aspects of life. Due to these conflicts, problems sometimes arise. It is for this reason that the Human Relations Committee has been established.

As I watched fall pass and winter approach this year, I could see Human Relations getting off to a slow start. Voting was made extremely difficult—schedules made it hard to get to class before the tardy bell rang, to say hello to fellow comrades, and in the same five minutes vote for the representatives. Even after school, in the mad rush to the buses, voting became difficult.

Meetings were held on the second Tuesday of the month starting on Dec. 10, 1974. Once underway, this group served as a sounding board for the expression of oneself or ethnic group. The discussion of problems and situations, in an orderly fashion, which occurred, took place and they prevented certain problems from happening in the longrun.

Communication Is Top Priority For Commission

This year was a year of tradition along with new changes. The Youth Commission was an example of a first while Junior Rotarians represented a more established foundation. Both dealt with helping others. The Youth Commission confronted high school problems of today. Their five areas of major concern were the schools, sex education,drug education, community facilities and interpersonal relations. They participated in a statewide conference and a district conference along with the publishing of a Youth Mandate. To be a member of the Junior Rotarians was an honor extended to deserving boys who were high scholastically and a service to the school and community. They were selected and attended weekly luncheon meetings of the civic organization. If the Rotary club had a project of service for the community they were invited to participate.

Discussing the follow-up of the conference are George Sierra, Shirley Reasby, and Larry Greer, while Mike Russell, Vince Papish, Cobert Datson, and Gabriel Terronez look on.

Should We Call Them Letterpersons?

Mr. McCarter discusses ushering responsibilities during a Lettermen's Club meeting during basketball season.

Lettermen's Club . . . no, Letterwomen's Club . . . no, that won't do it either. How about Letterperson's Club! No? Well, what do you suggest then, Varsity Winners? Okay, I'll still go along with Lettermen's Club, but it seems peculiar to me, I mean some of you are girls! Although they tell me that girls have been eligible before, no one has taken part seriously until this year.

I've always considered myself as a cool cat, but when the female sex joined the Lettermen's Club I was taken by surprise. It was kind of strange not having a fellow letterman usher me to my seat at the game, but like I said, I'm a cool cat and the girls gave me no disappointment.

During the year, money raising events included a car wash, the selling of spirit buttons and for the first time, frozen pizza. Of course the Lettermen's picnic and basketball game against the faculty were both exciting . . . but still there's got to be a better name. Varsity winners let's get together . . .

Lack of publicity hurt attendance this year at the annual Lettermen-Faculty Basketball game April 7. The Faculty defeated the Lettermen 71 to 65.

Language Clubs Die Despite Special Events

A great ancient Panther philosopher once said that actions spoke louder than words. In the case of language activities it is a good thing; though many of us couldn't understand the words of the foreign language students, their actions were domestically understood.

The activities of the year included such festivities as the Octoberfest and the Spanish food festival, as they quenched Panther hunger with great varieties of foreign food, prepared in their traditional way. Spanish Christmas cards were also made and Christmas carols were sung—again in their traditional manner. UT also became a Foreign exchange host to the Quad City area as various cultures gathered under the one category of mankind.

Gifted Girls Renew Spirit Of Orchesis

Back in '68 when Orchesis took their first step to music they were well received, and as a swift cat myself, I could not help but to move to the beat right along with them. Since then, my tail has worn thin, and for awhile so did the program's enthusiasm, but thanks to the cat's nine lives, Orchesis has again come alive. They performed their modern dance, not only for our home basketball games but for surrounding schools.

Orchesis had a good group this year, which came through many hours of practice, the leadership of Miss D'Angelo, constructive criticism, and a true feeling of unity and cooperation. The many hours of hard work were made worthwhile by just one smile from Miss D'Angelo.

The year ended on a happy note with a successful performance of the annual spring recital "Points Four" on May 22.

Budget, Loyalty Plague The Key

In October of 1924, I was first able to paw through the Key newspaper. Since then, the advisors and even the size has changed many times. This year, the Key had a new advisor, Mrs. Barb Sather, many new features, including a literary portion which included creative writings from our UT students, and a difference whereby the traditional co-editor leadership was restructured to the use of an editor in chief and assistant editor. An unpleasant change came too, due to a budget problem, as the staff was forced to back many of the later issues to only four pages.

Among the many alterations stood something practically indestructable —weekly meetings, which were held on Tuesday afternoons at 3 p.m.

Pete Narrates UTHS Story In '75 Skyline

I may be a little biased in favor of this year's Skyline, after all, it did let ol' Pete say quite a bit—but nonetheless it was an important activity—who's final result will inevitably be longest remembered by the most people.

The book was put together under the problems of bad scheduling and the shortage of interested staff members when the going got tough.

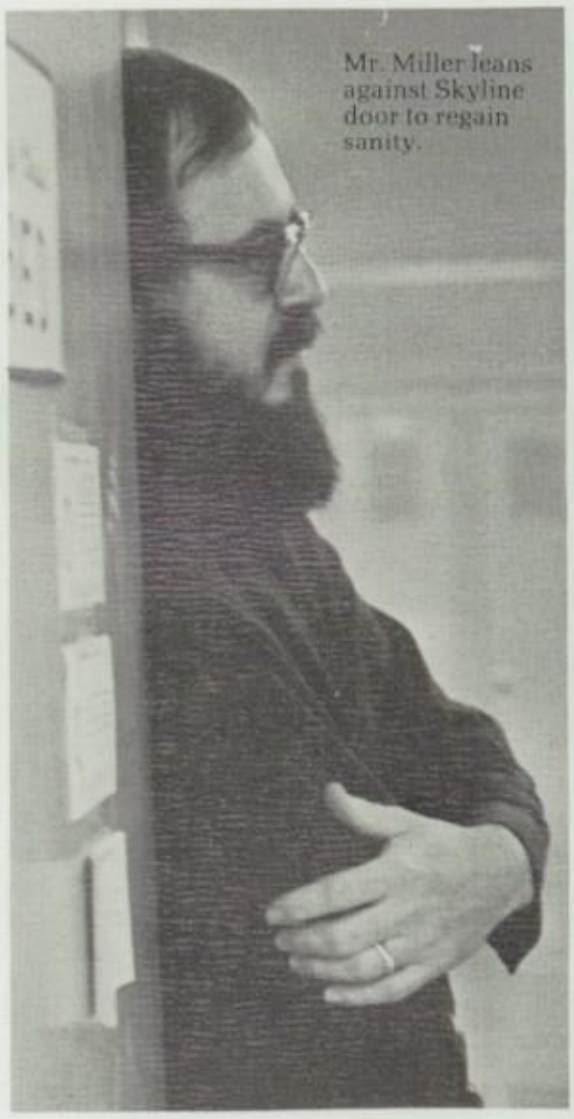
Despite the difficulties, many changes went into this year's annual in an attempt to make this Skyline one of UT's best. There was more color, the Stanley Cup winners were printed and photographed, the old style of organization was changed to a more natural chronological order, the accent of Skyline was aimed more directly at the people who made up the school, and there were page cutbacks in certain divisions.

Of course you can't judge a book by its cover, but even the binding was improved. It was another first—an acrylic painting on barnboard wood by Mike Cummings and Frank Pompa.

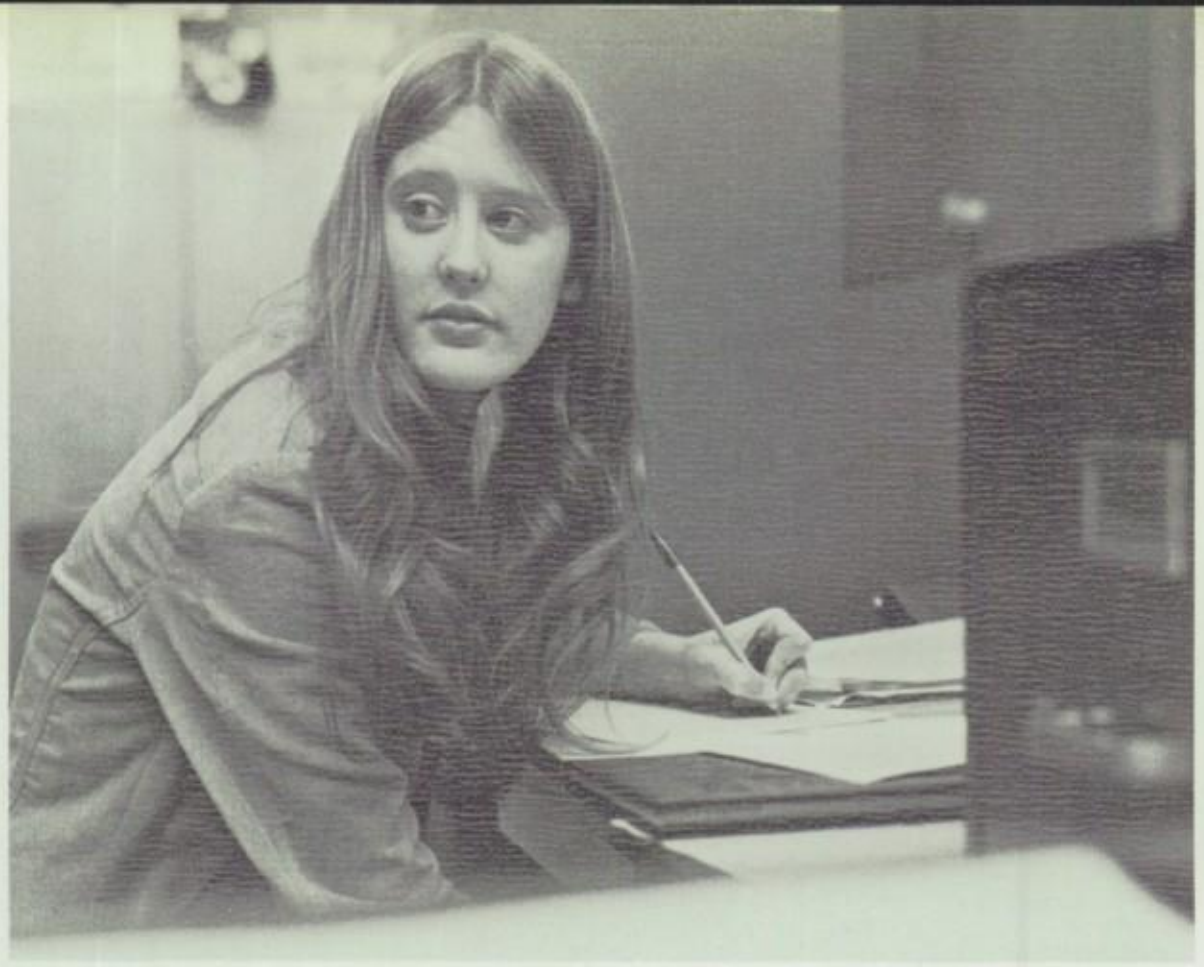
This yearbook represented a full year's work, but the hours did not represent dollars and cents—only satisfaction and appreciation.

Frank Pompa and Mike Cummings designed and painted the cover and contributed all art work for Skyline 1975.

Jack Bergstrand served the dual role of copy and organizations editor for Skyline 1975.



Mr. Miller leans against Skyline door to regain sanity.



Editor Kim Rotz glances at door to see if "loyal" staffers arrive for Skyline meeting.

Student Council Argues, Dances Way Thru Year

Panthers seem to have the need for a change of activity, and in many cases, it is the Student Council that provides it. So it was, in this year of many happenings.

The animal came out in many of the council members this year, and as noise overpowered action, a Parliamentary set of rules had to be enforced. Dances were then planned to take care of the extra emotional expression. There was a free KSTT Dance, that UT won out of all the Quad City high schools, the Homecoming and Christmas "grub" dance and the Valentine dance.

During Student Council week, many firsts were again introduced: Gramps and Granny's day, a teacher baby picture contest, the showing of "American Grafitti," (the movie, not the wall) and due to popular demand, the returning of a '50's dance.

Because fun isn't the only objective of Student Council, the group also sought answers to existing problems. Certain members took a trip to Yorkville High School, took part in a Quad Cities exchange day and went to the Student Council National Convention; all in an effort to compare, react, and improve.

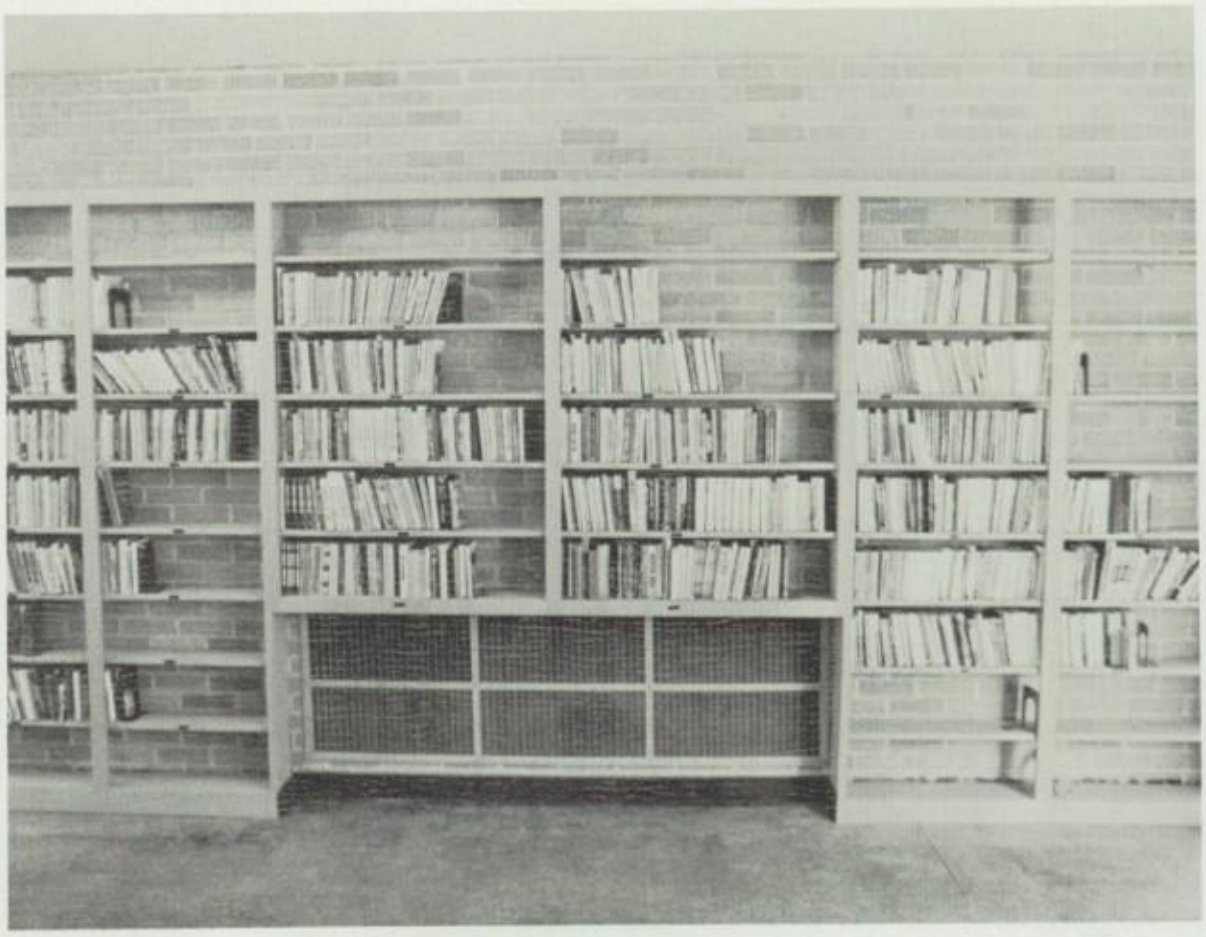
Volunteer Help Hard To Find For Librarian

Panthers, like all living creatures, need a well rounded life. Activity is important, but along with the activity—knowledge is essential. In that category, the Library plays an important part—a part which is made more complete through the work of the Library Club. A club that was proven significant as their obligations were put under the flame of testing.

The routine of shelving books wasn't like it used to be, because of the diminishing number of members in this year's club. There were, in the 1974-75 school year, two main reasons for the decline: changing schedules and the lack of interest. Those who were really interested though, gave up their spare time to be of service to the Library as they checked out literature to students and faculty and shelved many books and magazines.



The paperback shelves were one of the Library's projects this year.

Rifle Club Gets Bang Out Of Competit-ion

In the jungle Panthers are the target, but at UT, it's a good feeling to be the shooter.

The Hilltoppers Junior Rifle Club has been active since 1949, when it was founded by Jim Belt, the UTHS Dean of Boys. In 1951, Mr. Paul Oliver took over, and is approaching his 25th year of sponsorship. As of now there are more than 12,000 local and 52 state rifle clubs in the U.S., as the interest is definitely growing.

The National Rifle Association Ratings are: Distinguished, Expert, Bars 1-9, Sharpshooter, Marksman First Class, Marksman, and Pro Marksman.

It takes hard work, like anything, as the Rifle Team learns that practice makes perfect.

Scheduling Cuts North Campus Choir Numbers

Panthers can sing in the jungle without training—but when the audience does not consist of monkeys, snakes and insects, some practice must be done. So it is with the North Campus choirs. They sometimes get tired of hearing Mr. Dyer telling them to open their mouths, to stand up straight and to follow his direction—but nevertheless it was valuable training that needed to be followed. Yesterday was a lot of work so that Today and Tomorrow could be a success.

Choral Groups Lost Without Accompanists

As I listened and watched all of the choirs this year, I noticed Girls Glee Club to be the most unique. It was unique for several reasons, the biggest of which was that they were all female. This did not disappoint me in the least, but it did make things a little more difficult when it came to concentrating on the music. They sang in three major concerts, but prior to them they had to memorize every song, perfect their enunciation, learn the precise rhythm and keep a sharp eye on Mr. Dyers' direction. It was a lot of work, but then everything worth doing, is worth doing well.

Jazz Lab Busy Playing Many Concerts

I'm a panther of today, and though tradition is great, current music seems to be at the top of my list. That is why Jazz Lab was so popular. They really played good songs, but not without much practice. The Jazz Lab went to various schools throughout The Quad Cities as they practiced every weekday at 7 a.m. Jazz Lab was a selected group, under Mr. Mallie Williams, and was composed of cornets, trombones, saxophones, a piano and an electric guitar.

Jazz Lab got the undivided attention of many grade school students.

Student teacher Christine Sims had full charge of Freshmen Band during winter months.

Band Program Gets Boost From Everyone

The future for Concert and Marching Band hinges on the development of replacements for upperclassmen. Development of Freshmen was seriously hampered by dwindling band enrollment the past two years due to split-schedule. Fewer freshmen elected band as their fifth subject. Some of the ones that did, had no previous experience.

This year, steps were taken to get the freshmen program back on its feet, revising the class to 11 a.m. so that students from both shifts could attend. In addition, Mr. Williams and concerned band students went into feeder districts as many as two nights a week to revitalize elementary band programs as they even started a new one in Carbon Cliff.

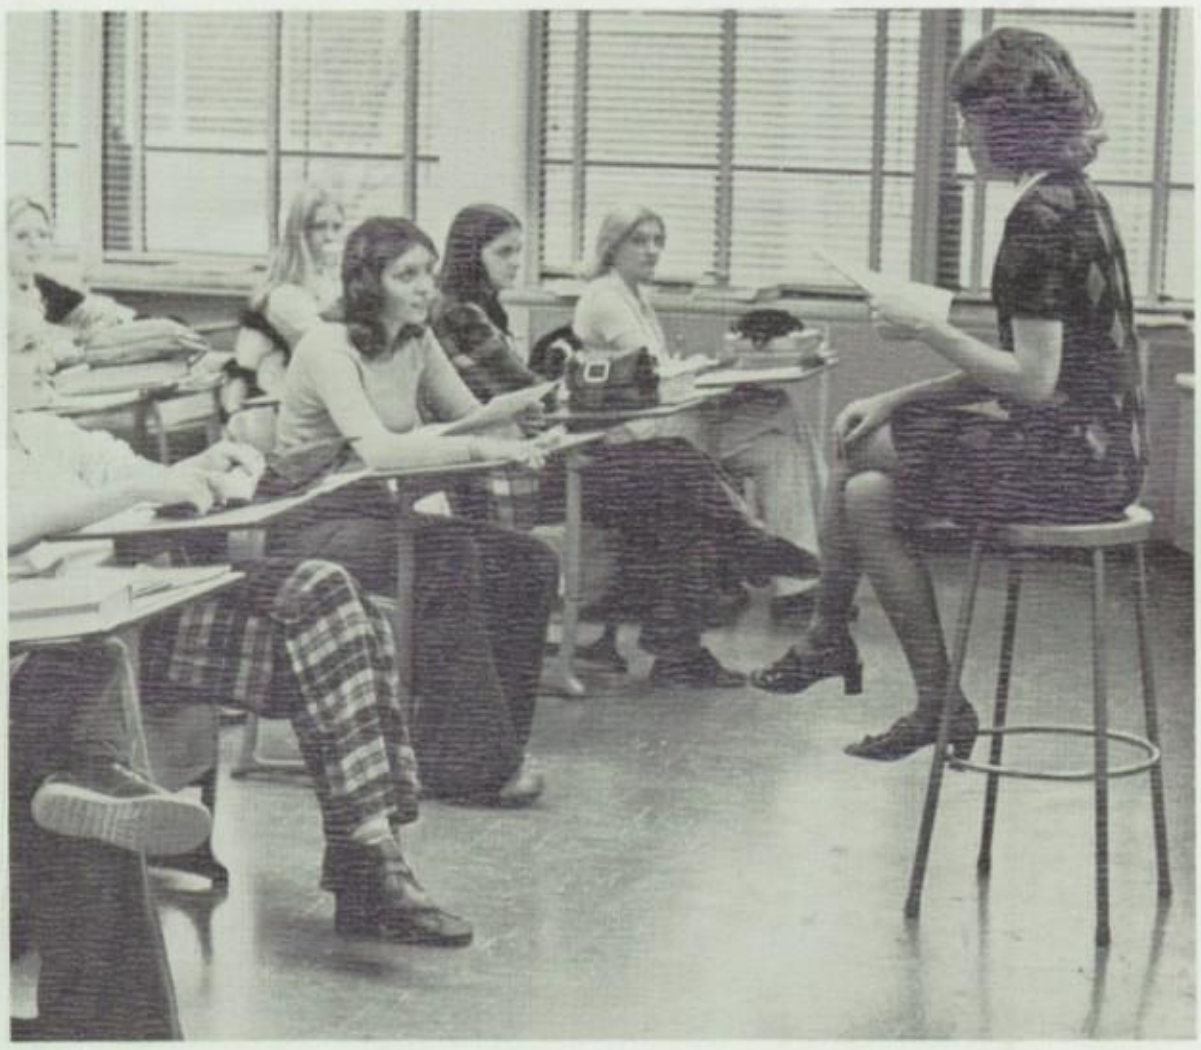
Growing Up Not So Easy For Panthers

As I look back at this year, I saw that the freshmen, sophomore and junior years were the best ones. They were a time for study, a place for play, but most of all, a time of growth. Soon to be seniors, you'll have but one more bridge to cross.

So, my fellow underclassmen still on the way up, a little Panther advice from ole Pete. Don't let today get you down for tomorrow will be a better day (or one day closer to getting out of school).

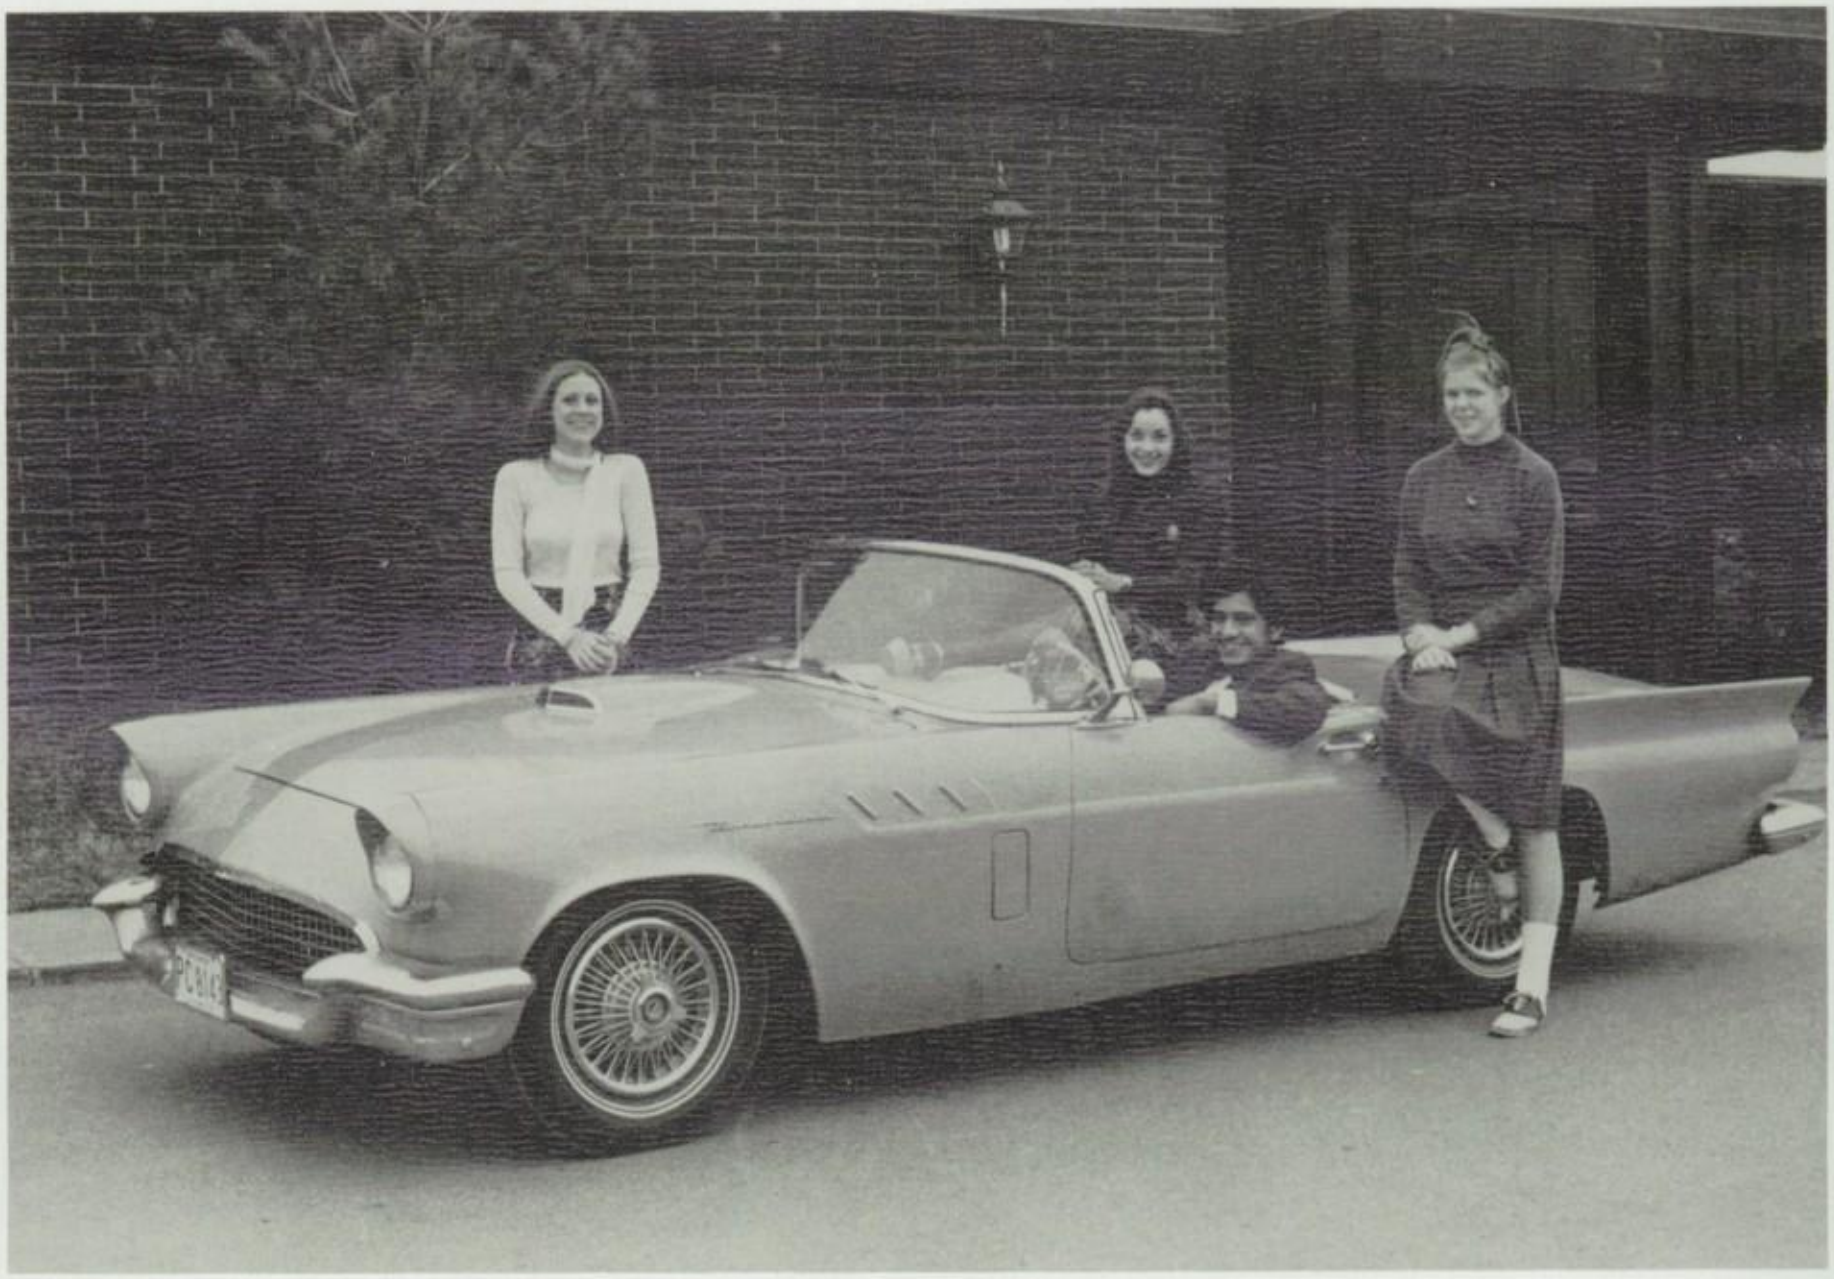


Miss Blix reads an example of a well done assignment to her junior English class.

Bus don't leave me its three miles to Colona and I ain't about to walk.

Juniors Face Big Time, Make 101 Adjustments

Being a Junior is like being reborn. Where else can you go from living amid pre-war prison architecture to cruising through a modern building, open lunches, self scheduling and friends with cars in only three months. We really felt like upper classmen as we cheered and criticized varsity athletics. We really knew what love was all about, exchanging class rings and kisses almost as much. Many of us found new interests or learned hard lessons when we skipped a class once too much. Another year passing—our own prom—and too soon our own Senior year.



Junior officers: Patty Nemerguth, Secretary; Amy Dobereiner, Vice President; George Sierra, President; and Janet Lathem, Treasurer.

Sorry Junior, that class was closed two hours ago.

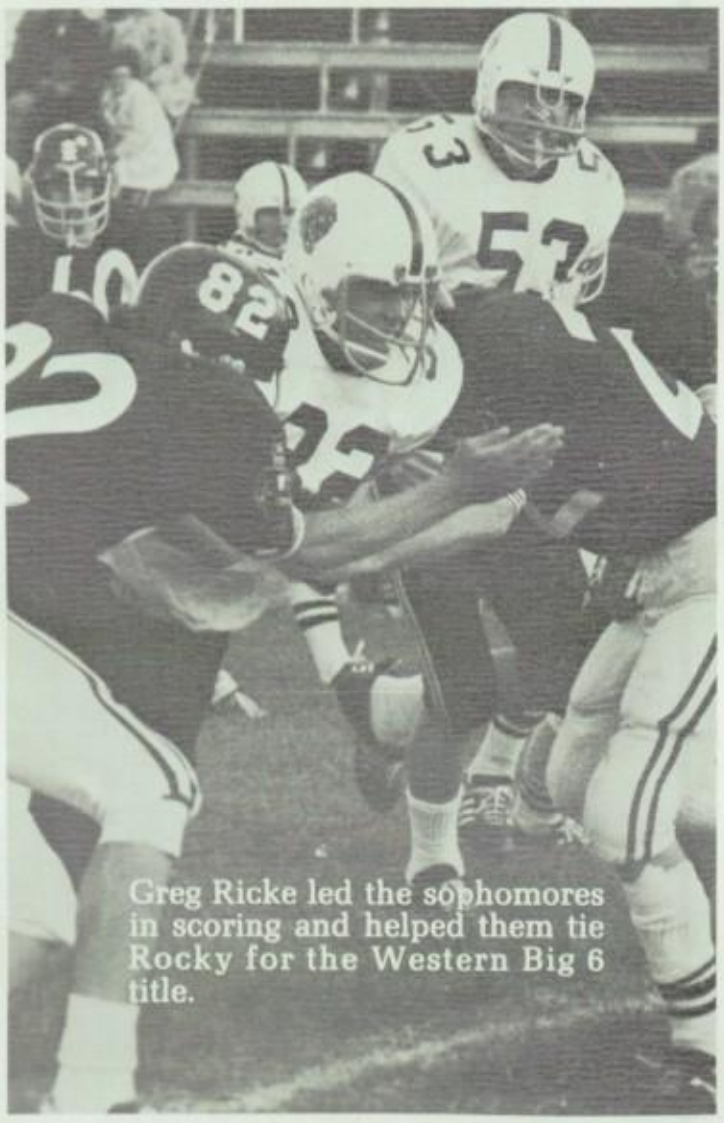
Sophomores Survive Year Of Ups, Downs

This year was a really great year! Twice I almost put away my security blanket and three times I left Teddy at home. It's easy to get over-confident when you're "King of the Hill." We were really proud of our athletic accomplishments, capturing championships in many of the major sports. We'll always be able to look back and remember it was one of the few winning football years. On the other hand, our float fell far short of expectations when it was awarded second place. Groan. Oh well, we'll show em' next year.

Sophomore officers: Amy Miletich, Vice President; Craig Titus, Secretary; Tracy Thorpe, Treasurer, and Steve Smith, President.



Greg Ricke led the sophomores in scoring and helped them tie Rocky for the Western Big 6 title.

Mr. Greene wonders when the graffiti rats will ever learn to spell his name right.

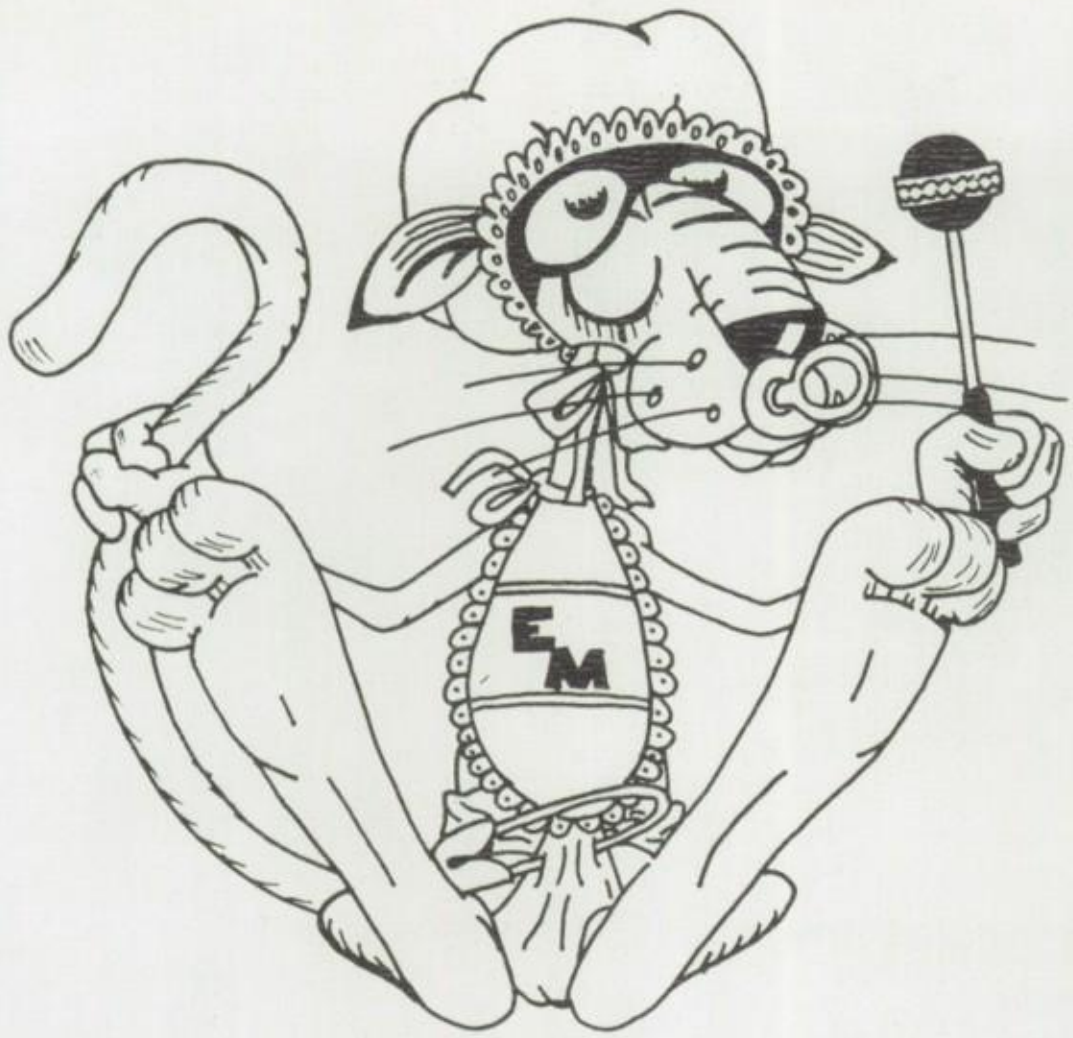
1. Lines and angles formed by the sophomore cheerleaders.

2. What is Mr. Diaz looking at?

3. Learn to be a bouncer in sophomore P.E.

4. "Where did I put that bus pass?"

5. "Class, today we'll discuss the true art of ice hockey or English?"



New Freshmen Learn Fast To Cope At UT

We started out our high school career a little wet behind the ears. We bounded into North Campus with great enthusiasm, but soon found out it was easy to lose your way in the three thousand and one levels and hallways. We eagerly approached our first homecoming, but learned the hard way that grades suffer if you spend too much time on your float. We thought we did a good job, but we were disqualified. Nobody told us there was a $25 limit. After adjusting to split schedule we began to participate actively and by the end of the year we really felt proud that we were truly the Orange and Black and not just punk freshmen.

Freshmen officers: Kris Young, Secretary; Shari Fink, Treasurer; Karee Nibergall, Vice President; and Mike McClure, President.

Rich Helmer tells Mike Parsons that if he works real hard as a freshman he can grow up just like Rich did.

We will miss those students that touched our lives. It is indeed tragic to lose so many young people in one year, but although their lives have ended, their meaning and the love you shared will always be remembered.

Can it be that life is so simple we need no one to help us through?

Glory Hounds Set Fast Pace In Intramurals

Glory comes to many athletes who struggle through the intramural program under Mr. Lee. After a successful wrestling tournament, where three places were awarded, basketball captured the keen interest of would-be court jesters and gunners who could outshoot Billy the Kid given the chance. In this year's tournament, the Senior "Hi-Fliers" beat the Junior "Tower of Power" for the all-school championship.

Cheerleaders Boost Spirit For Panthers

Being just about as spirited as a Panther could be, I really enjoyed watching and cheering right along with our cheerleaders. Of course it's not as easy for them as it looks, but with the hard work and extensive practice, comes some good times too. They made the hoops for the team to run through, "pep" posters, and even treated the visiting cheerleaders to "homemade" refreshments. This year, after strict consideration, the girls were allowed to travel to Carbondale, as they cheered the team on to victory during that first game against the number one rated team in the tournament. To raise money to get to the tourney, the girls had to sell posters—but it was made worthwhile by the great experiences. The new assistant coach this year was Mrs. Simmonds. She was very helpful and patient with the girls as they contributed to a big fun filled memory, especially for those graduating seniors. Everyone got along really well this year and put it together in 1974-1975 to make for a terrific season.

Cheerleaders Spur Team To Victories

It's been a great year for our wrestling cheerleaders and wrestlerettes. What's more fun than winning! The varsity girls received new uniforms and the wrestlerettes wore new bright orange and black T-shirts. The enthusiasm for wrestling reached a new high on all levels. Wrestlerettes helped out by scoring, video taping, making posters and keeping the mats in shape. The cheerleaders picked up everyone's spirits when things got tough and held them there when we were winning.

Administration, Staff Complete OSPI Task

Administering education is no easy job, especially when there's more to it than teaching. After working most of last year and the first part of this, the staff has become the first area school to finish the state requirement of completing its curriculum behavioral objectives. The booklet is on file and available for inspection in the Resource Center. The Illinois OSPI called for the curriculum update after recent legislation by the new educational leadership in the state.

Other major accomplishments this year included adding several full year courses to the program and enlargement of the special education department.

Streamlining the curriculum and evaluation of present teaching techniques is now under study.

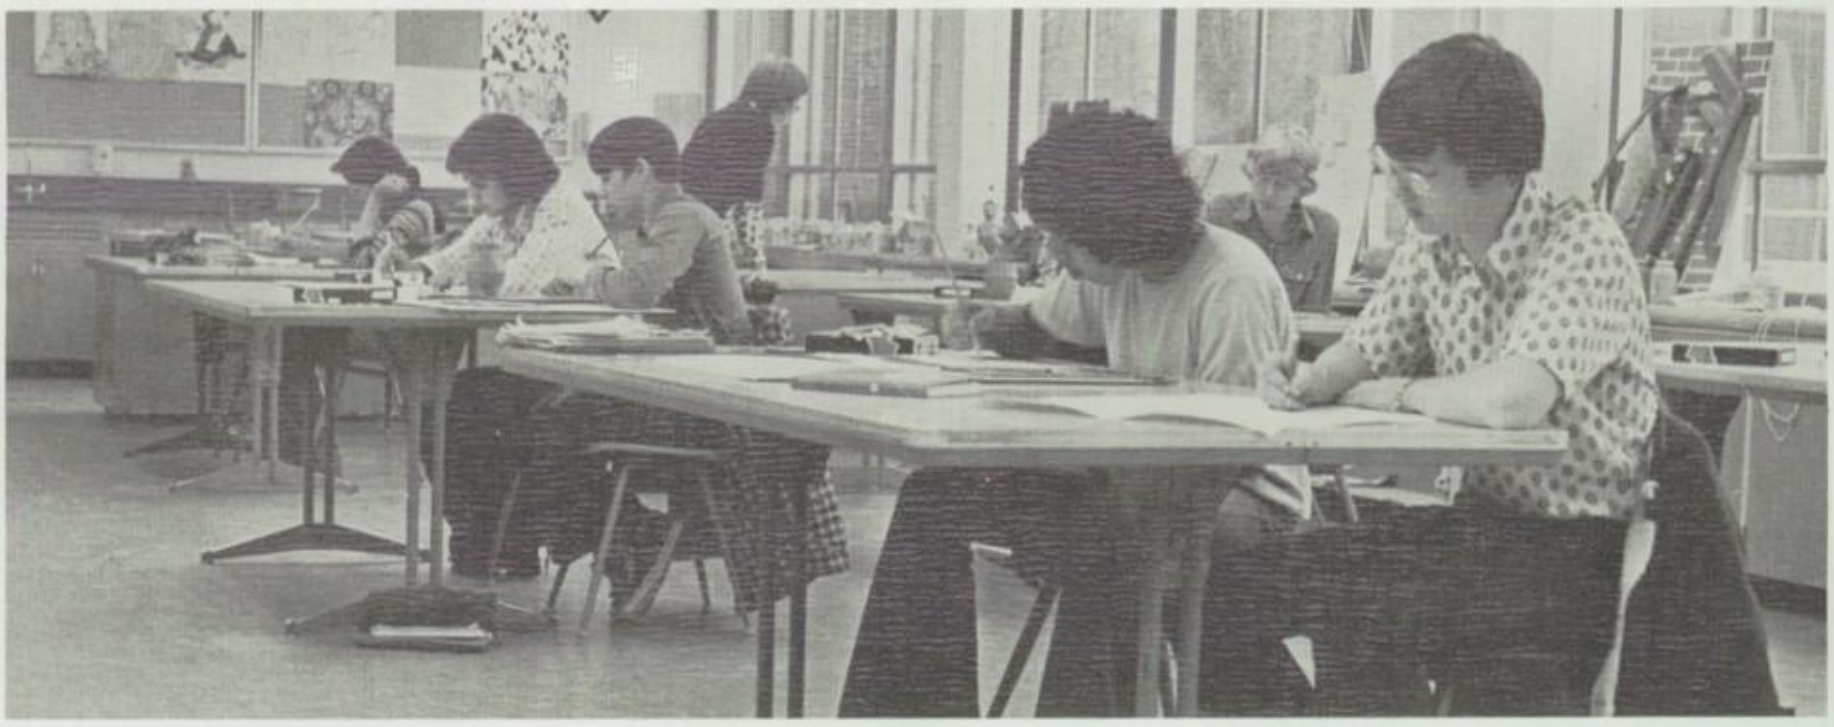
Students Make Course Choices In Three Areas

Vocational classes afford students the opportunity to learn skills to gain good jobs.

A complete media center allows teachers and students to enrich their education.

One of the things I have noticed most during my years at UTHS is the increased number of course areas to choose from. Besides the required classes, the students can select from many electives in the arts or humanities or pursue nearly 20 courses in vocational related programs. The advantages of such a school offering so many courses are overlooked by a few Panther students, but more and more are realizing the head start they can have if they take school seriously.

► A new required course this year to join the tradition curriculum core was consumer education.



▲ Electives prove to be very popular for students who wish to develop other interests.

Mary Jane O'Klock

Max O'Klock presents plaque to UTHS in memory of his wife. Memorial funds were used to purchase a career file.

Last August, Mary Jane Strause O'Klock had started her school year one week before the students would start their's. But the students never got the chance to see her again as she died unexpectedly Tuesday, Aug. 27, 1974.

Mrs. O'Klock, who held a masters degree in counseling from Purdue University, had served at UTHS for eight years before her death.

As a warm person, Mrs. O'Klock showed a keen interest in students and their problems, promoting their awareness in career opportunities and scholarship opportunities.

Taking Part In Activities Is UT Way

My greatest memories through the years have come from all the activities. Sure, I remember my teachers and classes, but I'll never forget working on a float, participating in a club, or getting up in front of people as a musician, dancer or actor. These events stand out in my cat brain as "Panther Prize Moments." From crossing picket lines to go to school, right on through dress up days during Student Council week and all the other spring activities, 1974-75 was full of fun events. Many were organized well and came off just as nicely, but some were disappointing to say the least.

From Music, Homecoming, Theatre, Athletics, Council Week, And Prom To Graduation.

Mr. Dyer directs the new "handbell chorus" of Arlyce DeFauw, Jeannie Jesuit, Chris DePauw, Lynn Dergo, Mary Smith, Barry Swanson, George Lacefield, Kim Cass, Shelley Fredricks and Mike Russell.

From zany costumes to fifties garb, the many activities of the annual Student Council Week provided merriment for everyone.

Concert Band Members Host Area Festival

In the tradition of excellence, Concert band continued to amaze me. Through their musical balance and great performances they proved themselves to be out of the cub stage and into that of a full fledged Panther.

Although Concert Band is known for formal music, in their May 2 Spring Concert, they successfully played music from all areas and even played a musical game with the audience.

Several band members play at assemblies, rallies and ball games during the year.

Row Five: Tim Friedrich, Andy Puffer, Tony Hart, Tad Coder, Jeff Andon, Randy McCabe and Mark Potratz.

It's a beautiful day for a parade—sunny and warm—so says Alberto Castro.

Band Plays Homecoming, July 4 Fetes

Although sometimes I take the Marching Band for granted during half-time at the bowl, when I stop to think of the work they put in for each performance I become a little more appreciative. It takes skill to play music with precision, to play loud enough for the whole stadium to hear and at the same time march up and down, back and forth all in accordance with the particular routine.

Most of the members even went to summer band so that they could develop their skills to a greater extent.

A major event for Marching Band is formal marching in the annual homecoming parade in downtown East Moline.

South Campus Choirs Blend Advanced Voices

When I was singing my first do-re-mi's, I really began to appreciate choral music.
Of course my voice has changed, but with its development, so has the quality of UT's choir program.
Of East Moline's vocal groups, Concert and Chamber Choir were perhaps the finest. They combined vocal technique, rhythm and a knowledge of music—which, combined with Mr. Dyer's direction, and student cooperation, blended into some beautiful vocalization.
These two choirs made several school concerts throughout the year, and sang at many grade schools as well as different clubs.
These groups, along with many others have proven that nothing vocally beautiful can come without a great deal of work.

Sophomores Find Success During Fall

There's excitement in the air in the fall. The warm colors, the smell of burning leaves, and seeing old faces along with new ones as school reopens all make the ingredients for a return to competition.

Our excitement was short lived as a new coach and new uniforms could not winning Panthers make. If they gave an award for close, the football Panthers would have been winners. For Don Davis, injuries and crucial mistakes, kept the varsity from glory as they finished 0-9.

For the sophomores it was a different story. Things fell into place, the Panther Cubs finished 6-3 by capitalizing on breaks and soared to a tie for the Western Big Six championship with Rock Island. Many freshmen gained valuable game experience on the Orange and Black teams.

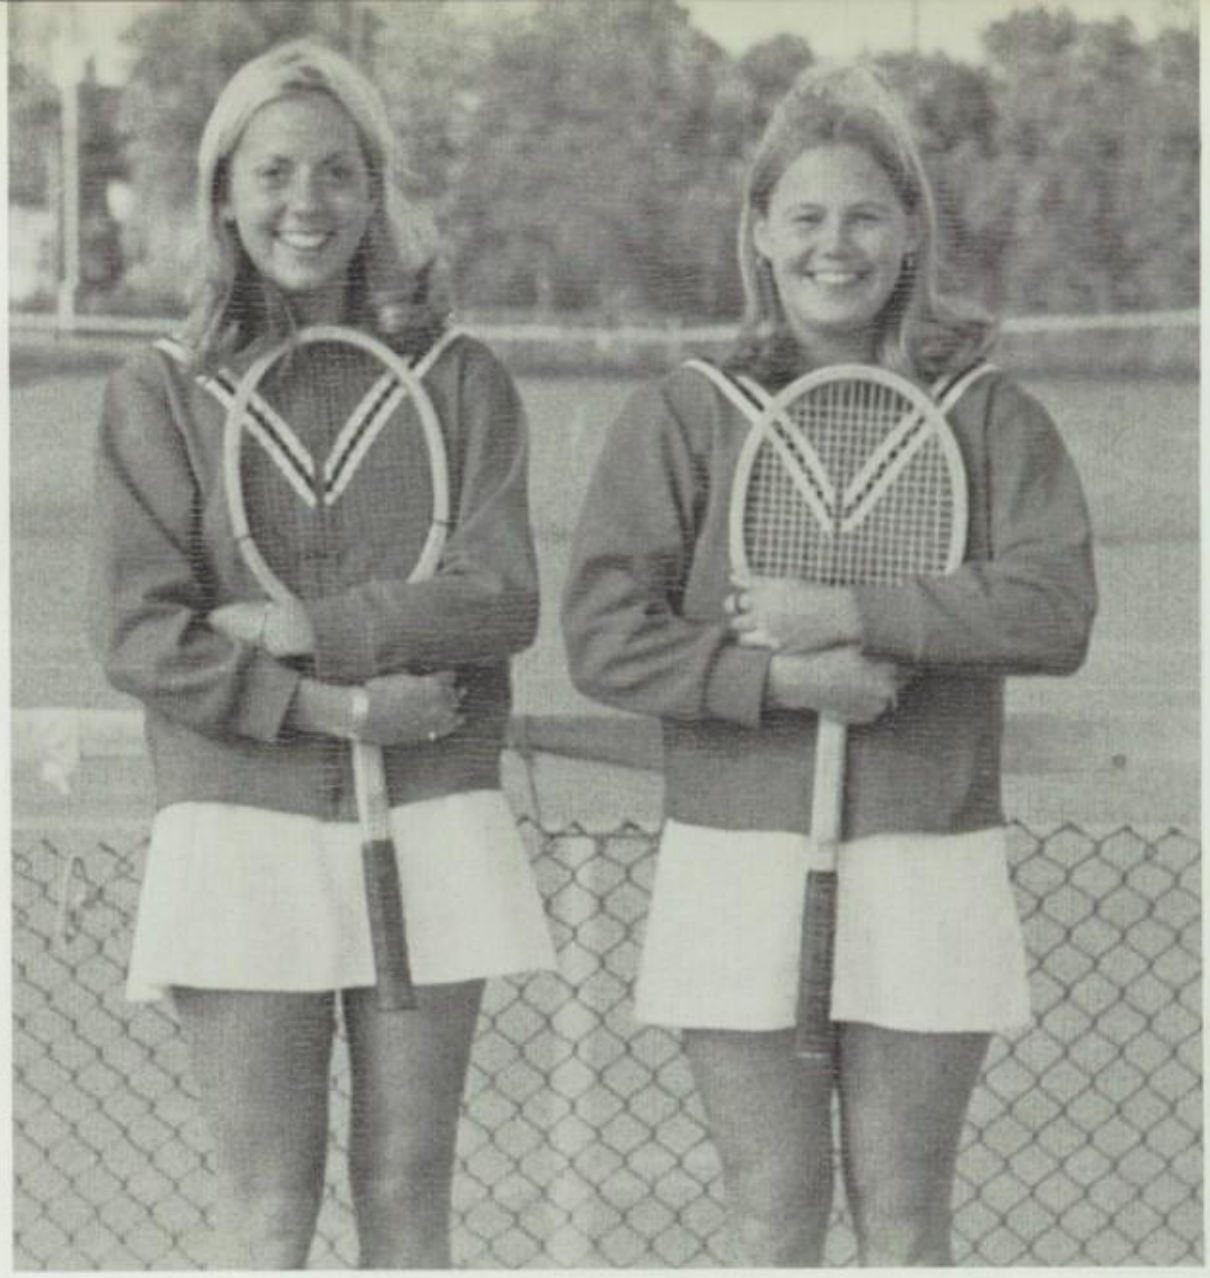
The freshmen-sophomore cross country team again was an area power winning many meets including the Metro and a second in the Big Six. Sophomore Bob Feller and many juniors made up the majority of the varsity harrier team leaving everyone optimistic about the future of distance running in Pantherland.

A young golf team improved with every meet and was the host school for the district. During the fall, they finished fourth in the Metro, second in district, and fifth in sectional.

For the girls, the fall was a season of disappointment. A controversy about coaching assignments and salary forced the athletic department to get outside coaches. By the time things were reorganized field hockey never got on the stick and archery didn't even string its bow. No, archery season was tragic since defending state champion Vicky Byrd was back for another year.

Mr. Allee became girls tennis coach and saw his team improve as the season progressed, but illness and misfortune caused seniors Kathy Holmes and Kyle Allee to miss a bid for a third straight trip to the state tournament in doubles.

Winter comes, but spring and summer return, so aspiring athletes say wait until next year where we'll be back and we'll do better.



Top doubles team for three straight years in girls tennis was seniors Kyle Allee and Kathy Holmes.

Pursuit by Panther defense was necessary much of the time for varsity football.

Sophomore Bob Feller has turned into one of the area's premier distance runners with his excellent times.

Mr. Kimmell spurs on his son Tom during a cross country race.

Hard-hitting action like this helped the Panther Cubs roll up a 6-3 record and a share of the Big Six title.

Early '74 Homecoming Is Success

Of course you know, Homecoming is one of the biggest events of the year for me. What an exciting time. Watching students get excited, both in school and out, anticipation of royalty, being a lucky one who already has a date for the game and dance, trying to find some time for working on a float between clowning or gossiping, noticing the first week of October speeding by, and all too quick, having to sort out all the memories of the big event. Want to remember some of them with me? Good, lets take another look at Homecoming '74 . . . first off, the royalty, Senior boys and girls chosen by their classmates to represent the school during the events of the week.

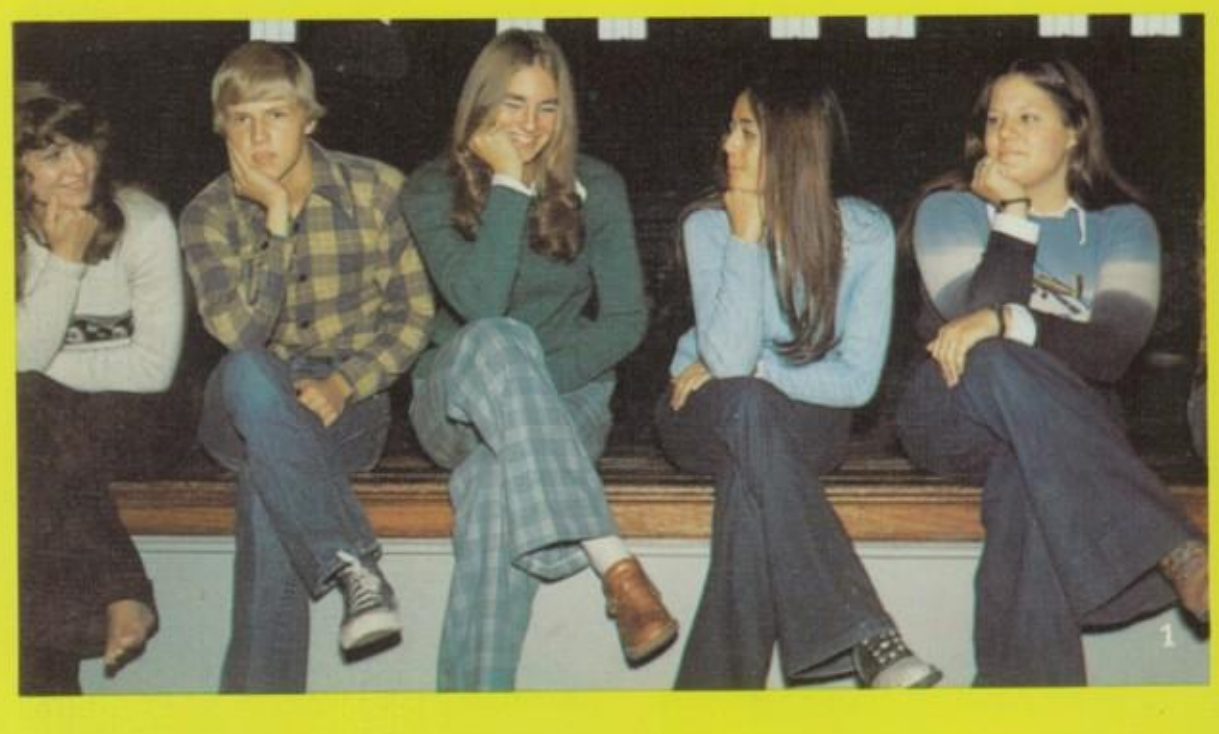
Royalty Tires After Playing 3 Assemblies

We were out of breath before the parade began this year. What with three assemblies, the most in the history of Homecoming, everyone participating felt like they were part of a carnival road show. When master of ceremonies' Amy Dobereiner and George Sierra got things underway at 8 a.m. everyone was beginning to show just how nervous they were, anticipating the naming of the King and Queen. I know I certainly had the jitters. You would think I would get over it by now, but every year is all the more exciting. The nervous chatter of the first assembly was replaced by "oh not again," as the third assembly replayed to the afternoon shift at North Campus. Boy, the cute crownbearers, Samantha Cumberworth and Christopher Ohlsen, sure must have been tired by then. After the royal couples were introduced, entertainment was provided by the Cheerleaders, Pep Band, Panther Players and several seniors who dressed themselves as the Burlington cheerlosers. The skit "Is it time Yet?" built the suspense all the more as the students groaned in disbelief at the predictability of the skit itself. When we found out Jeanne Jesuit was princess and Steve McClure was prince, it was indeed time for the big moment. Looking back, you just don't remember all the words, but you do recall the screams of joy. For Mary Polaschek it was a dream, a surprise, tears of disbelief. Joining her at the royal throne was Bill Mosley as King. The moment truly had arrived. I knew myself, what was in store for Mary and Bill, Jeanne and Steve. They had just begun what would be a very busy but exciting weekend.

The impressive and inspiring ceremony of knighting Coach Davis came next. The captains and the coach spoke of the task before them. Oh, how we really hoped we could be on our way to victory.



1. "Is it time yet?" skit caused many a groan at the three assemblies and was booed off at North Campus.

2. Pep Band leads first shift assembly at North in rousing version of school fight song.

3. Crown bearers were Christopher Ohlsen and Samantha Cumberworth.

4. Roars of laughter came for Burlington's cheerlosers Terry Berdick, Pete Crampton, Joe Copeland, Steve Sarginson and Terry Held.

Royal Court Reigns Over Festivities

Presenting, for your pleasure, formal portraits of the 1974 Royal Court. File them in your memories. Boy, was the school ever proud of all the Royalty couples this year. Despite the fact we lost the varsity game, the overall Homecoming week was most enjoyable. Many faculty members commented to me that it was the best organized and carried out event in well over 10 years.

It was truly a "Madison Avenue" event. The world of commercials provided inspiration for float construction and dance decorations. There were nights that week when we couldn't tell if our fingers were numb from the stuffing of thousands of napkins into chicken wire or from the chill of record low temperatures. It plunged to the twenties Tuesday and Wednesday night — eight degrees below the all time coldest low. Thanks to student determination and pizza donations from the "Hut" we managed to keep late hours to make the Friday parade deadline.

There will be much to remember from this Homecoming. Credit must go to Student Council's committee heads for their work. They inc%ude Election, Lori Andon and Marie Coram; Dance, Mindy Peterson and Paula Archibald; Assembly, Kathy Whitney and Dinah DeLaere; Parade, Amy Dobereiner and Sue O'Brien; Half-time, Cheryl Van Opdorp; Decorating, Tony Hart and Kim Rotz; Publicity, Chris Claeys.

Balmy Skies For Parade

Homecoming's 1974 theme was "Madison Avenue" and as you know, it was the first one that was carried out all the way through.

October 4 dawned gloomy, but skies cleared at around 11 a.m. It was gusty, but the winds had a warming effect on the workers scrambling to finish their floats. Student Council did a good job providing Corvettes for all but two of the Royalty couples. Leading off were parade marshalls Shelly Fredericks and "Scotty" the cop as the parade began at last.

What a thrill it is to be part of a parade, seeing all the young and old lined up and watching us. Although there were fewer floats, the quality was much better than last year. The Juniors, who made a portrayal of me, won first prize, of course.

It certainly was a good parade and where would we have been without Mr. Williams and the Marching Band along with Miss D'Angelo and Orchesis, not to mention numerous others who took their time to be part of this event that we can remember for many years.

After Loss, Dance Ends Busy Week

Even though we saw the Panther sophomores defeat Burlington, our Varsity gave us one hell of a half playing on even terms with the 5th ranked Grayhounds. Slightly cold and rainy weather came, but it did not affect the half-time as the UTHS band did a great job with songs from Madison Avenue.

The game over, the Homecoming Dance remained, for those on the decoration committee, Saturday began early. Maybe too early, as upon arriving they found the doors to the Panther Den locked. After finally getting into the building, decorating ran smoothly and the result was something everyone could be proud of. Unlike previous years, this dance used the world of advertising to carry out the overall Homecoming theme. Corn stalks were replaced by park benches on grass, building fronts, and an outdoor cafe in the Student Lounge. You knew right where you were by the street sign which said "Madison Avenue".

"Time Machine" gave an interesting performance, but failed to live up to student expectations. Although we all like fast music, we were disappointed they wouldn't play more slow songs. The dance floor was still filled with enthusiastic people when an injured King Bill Mosley "hobbled" down the center aisle escorting Queen Mary Polaschek. It was a beautiful royalty dance with all of us just standing around repeating oohs and aws to ourselves.

As the clock ticked on, the final hour of Homecoming 74 was rapidly fading into the night. Many of the couples scurried off to be on time for their reservations at various area restaurants. For some of us who had to clean up, we took consolation in knowing that it was really a Great Homecoming and that it was "ours".

There is a tear in my eye whenever Homecoming week ends. I really hate so much to see it pass. But that must be the reason it is such a great event at East Moline. It does my heart good to see how "tradition" means something again. These young people are lucky as they will have something "very real" to look back upon. It really was one of the best Homecomings we've ever had.

UT Players Add Matinee To 'Peter Pan'

Putting down my name brand peanut butter sandwich, I felt I was ready to see Peter Pan fly in the fall play. Peter Pan gets you in the mood, but it sticks to the roof of your mouth.

I had heard that Peter Pan would be a hard play for high school students to put on. When everyone remembers the Disney cartoon animation, making Peter fly gracefully, and finding someone small enough to play Tinker Bell really causes theatrical headaches.

But when curtain time came, the Panther Players became worthy of their name. Peter flew on a cable rig, Tinker twinkled by a spotlight, and the play was a colorful event.

While I was looking over the audience, the "wee ones" seemed very frightened by Captain Hook. Pirates, Indians, lost Children, strange animals and an enthusiastic audience made for three successful performances. For the first time in several years, a matinee was held for the play.

Hunter Makes Several Illinois All State Teams

Ups and downs would be the best way to describe winter sports at East Moline. Wrestling was, as usual, very up and basketball took a drastic downward slide.

Coach Bert Hanlin's wrestlers continued successfully, breaking their own dual meet record with an 18-2 mark, losing only to state-ranked Pekin and East Leyden. In state competition, the Panthers nabbed the district and sectional titles, sending Bill Bybee, Dan Carlson, Tom Freeman and Mike Kerr to Champaign. During the regular season, the grapplers defended their championships in the Dixon and Quincy tournaments, while winning both conference titles.

The sophomore wrestlers continued their dominance of Illinois competition, winning The Metro and Big Six and finishing 12-1 in dual matches.

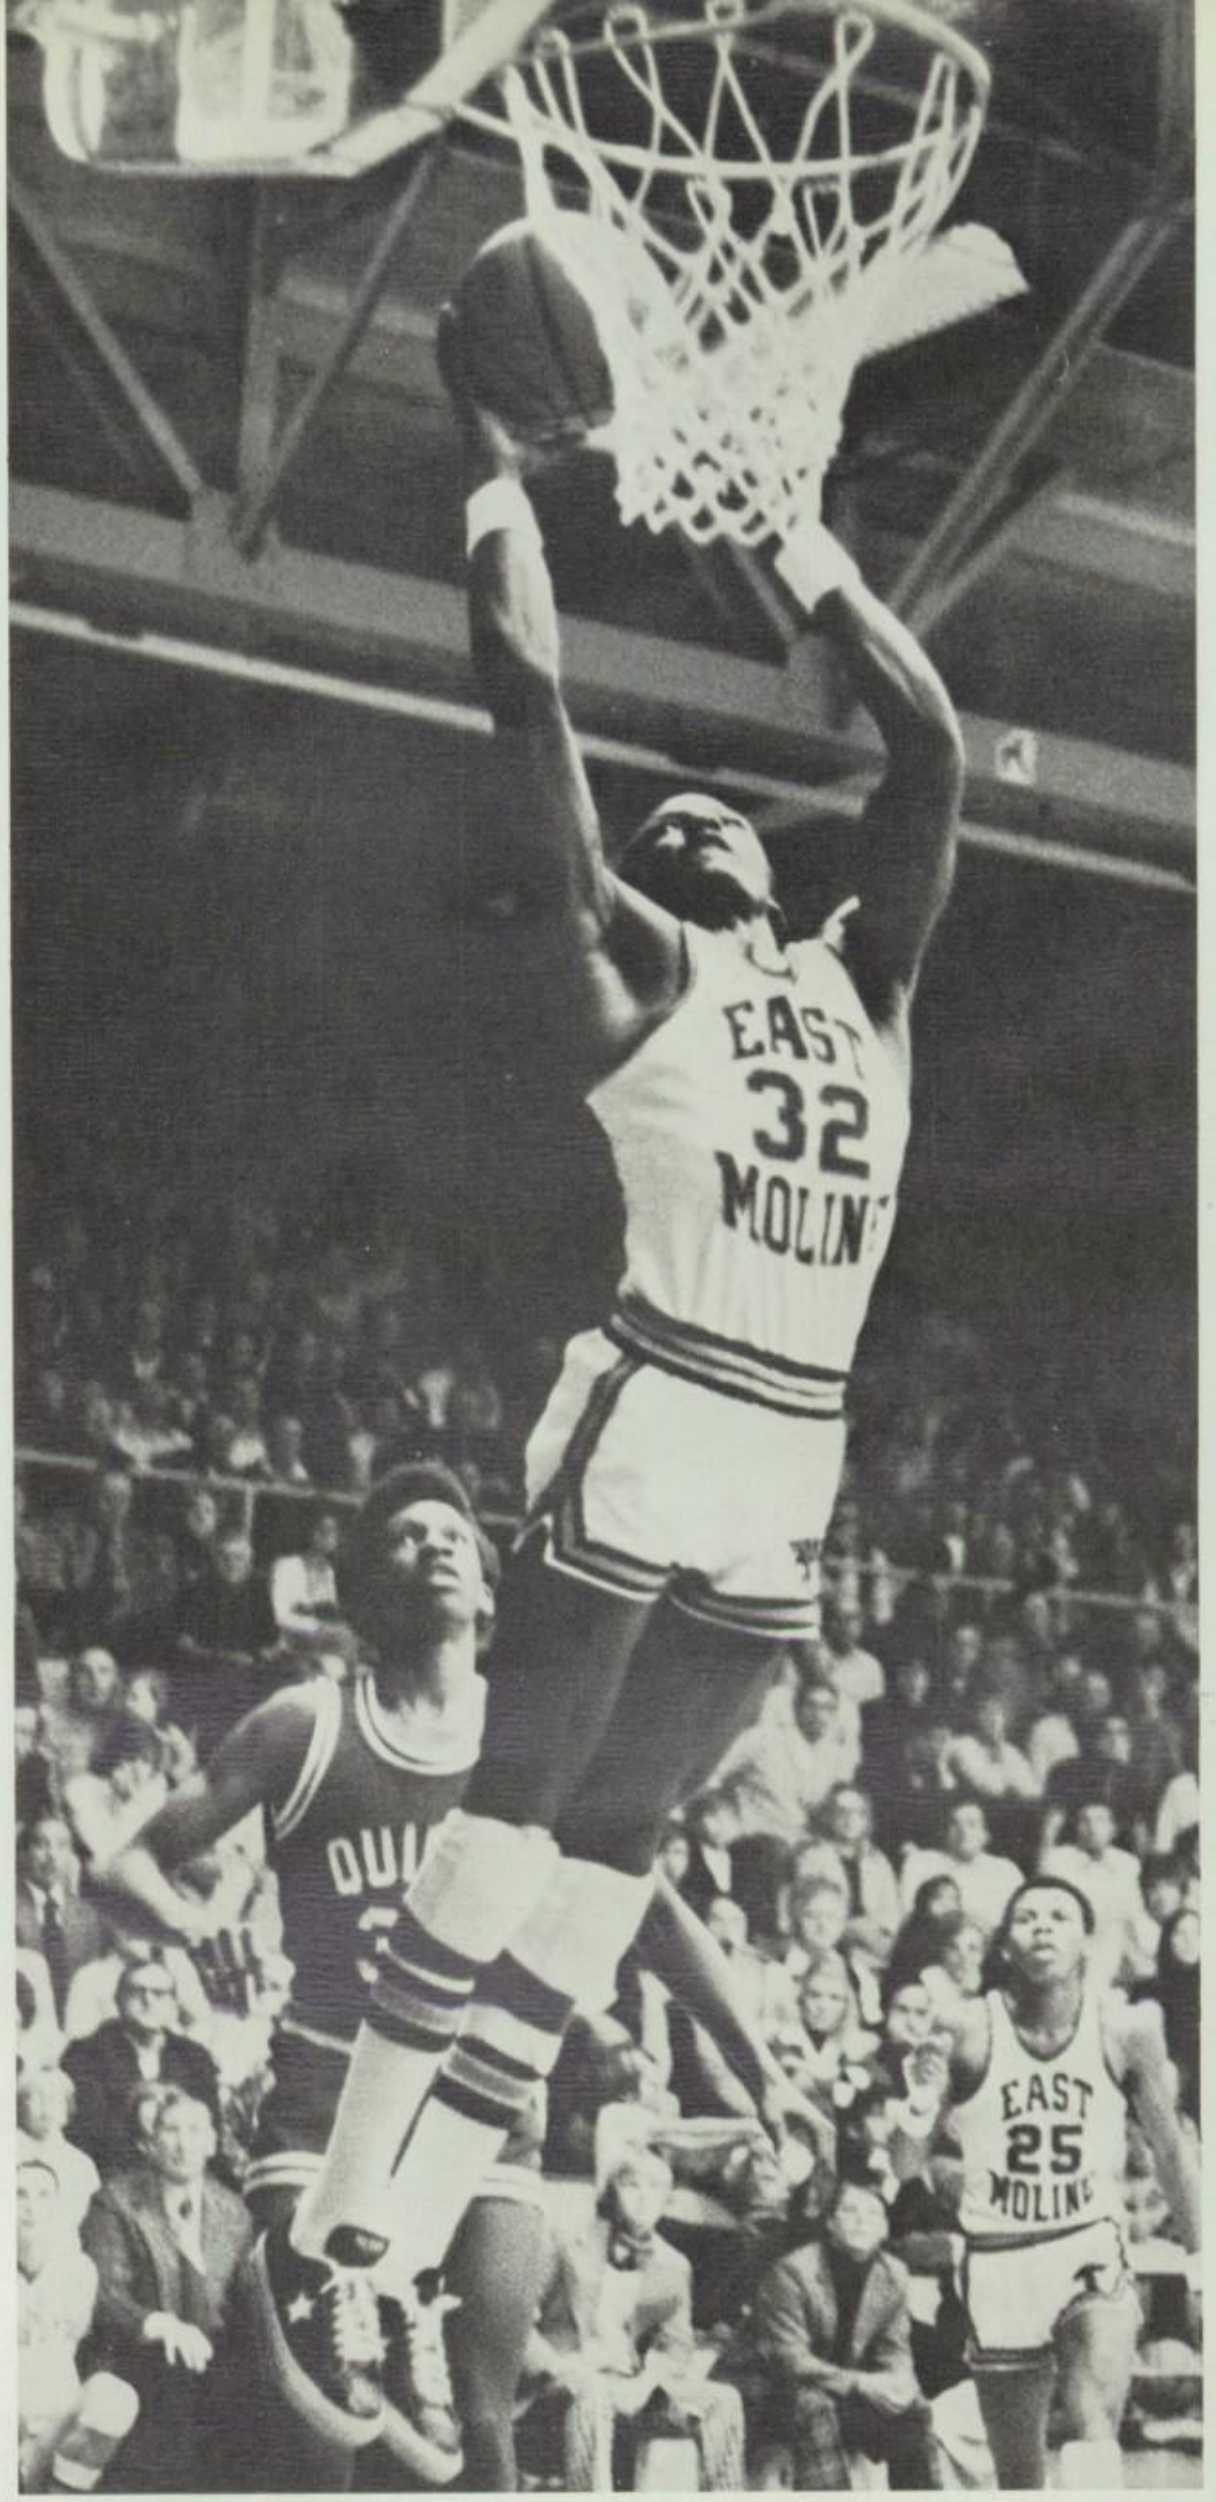
Despite victories over state power Decatur Eisenhower and Illinois' number two team, Bloom, the basketball team struggled through a disappointing 5-17 season. Many times, the cagers were ahead only to lose several key games in the final minutes.

On the bright side, six players who saw plenty of action and all-stater Steve Hunter all return next year. The entire starting five, which played well the last three games, returns intact.

For the girls, the bowling team and basketball squad were winners. The gal bowlers won four matches and the Chillicothe tournament before being eliminated in the sectional.

The coaching shakeup this year didn't help volleyball as the team managed only a 3-8 mark, but enthusiasm grew for basketball. The girl Panthers defeated Galesburg for the first time and played admirably, finishing 7-3, second only to undefeated Moline.

Many girls are gaining experience fast and the popularity of interscholastics is proof that girl's sports are here to stay.



Steve Hunter led the Metro in scoring and made several all state teams as a junior.

When you have a losing season, everything can go wrong including referee's calls.

Girls basketball continued to thrive at East Moline despite losses to arch rival Moline.

Wrestlers Break Own Best Record

Wrestling success reaches many areas. Excellent records on all levels, year in and year out, come from competitive effort to make the team, good publicity and enthusiasm by everyone who participates. UTHS has success in wrestling and has it because Mr. and Mrs. Bert Hanlin and the other coaches in the program are dedicated. They work long and hard hours. They are demanding, but patient. They are victorious, but not big-headed. They are champions.

Being the observant Panther that I am, I can see this. I'm proud to say I have learned to love wrestling and as a true fan I bet many others would enjoy wrestling if they gave the sport a chance and followed the team.

▲Bill Bybee finished the season with a good match record of 19-1-1 and a career mark of 33-4-3.

▲Coach Bert Hanlin worries through another match.

▶I'll pin 'em next time coach.

▲Mike Kerr was another standout wrestler at 17-3-1.

Heavyweight Tom Freeman finished his career with an 18-3 record.

Hat Tracking Eludes Actors In Comedy

When I came in and sat down Feb. 19 at 7:30, I expected to hear the orchestra play and see the curtain rise but a ten minute delay gave me time to mull over in my mind what a play called "An Italian Straw Hat" would be about.

The French vaudeville comedy deals humorously with the events happening around the disappearance of an Italian Straw Hat. The hat, eaten by a horse, causes much chaos among the plans for a wedding as the main characters try to get things in order before they destroy each other. Oh well, all's well that ends well.

Theatre Goers See Different Spring Musical

"Roar of the Greasepaint, Smell of the Crowd." I'll never get that name right. I sat in the audience captivated by the strange characters who were running about arguing who sits where. Even the orchestra was as much a part of the play as the people.

The play was about life, and the characters symbolized people who do not realize what really life is about. Sir symbolizes a leader, who pushes people around amid being very conceited. Cocky symbolizes those being pushed around. Kid symbolizes those who go along with leaders at first but have a change of attitude in the end.

The blue jean coveralls the cast wore weren't so far out as many people dress like this now, and many of them are just as weird.

It was a very colorful play which leaves a cat with the puzzling question: "How does greasepaint roar?"

Would Real Player Members Return Again?

When I first heard of Panther Players, I thought that it sounded great; after all, I liked to play. But as I attended, I was taken a little by surprise because they didn't play as I'd expected.

The Players did all the things behind the scenes of each play. Some acted, but many others did the legwork. They constructed the sets, applied make-up, sewed costumes, found props, designed programs to the productions and even ushered the audience to their seats.

The Panther Players were one of the biggest activities, but at times the work was distributed unevenly as many people slowly lost their interest in the program. Nonetheless, the job was done—and was done very well.

Moliere Comedy Wins District Play Competition

Practice, practice, practice. If I would have seen that play one more time at North Campus I would have screamed. Thespians prepared their play, Moliere's comedy "Sganarelle" and it was judged first over eight other contest plays in district competition this spring. It's a play of mistaken identities and jumping to conclusions without examining the true facts. Although the comedy failed to place at sectional competition, Mr. Schmidt and the cast restored a winning tradition to dramatics at UTHS.

District speech winning one act play "Sganarelle" is presented to North Campus English classes for rehearsals.

Oriental Theme Sets Mood For '75 Prom

The Junior-Senior Prom was a night to remember. After I got over the jitters on my first prom date, was I ever a nervous wreck. The evening was great and the music was swingy. You never would have guessed you were in the gym with all the decorations and the people who crowded in. The guys wore tuxes with ruffled shirts of different colors and the gals glittered in dresses of varying lengths and styles. By the time the dance was almost over, my stomach had come back down to earth from all the glamour of the whole evening. Everyone departed by twos or fours to end a perfect evening with a romantic dinner by candlelight. Later, after changing to casual clothes for the post prom party at the Upper County YMCA, the big night of the year became only a lingering memory.

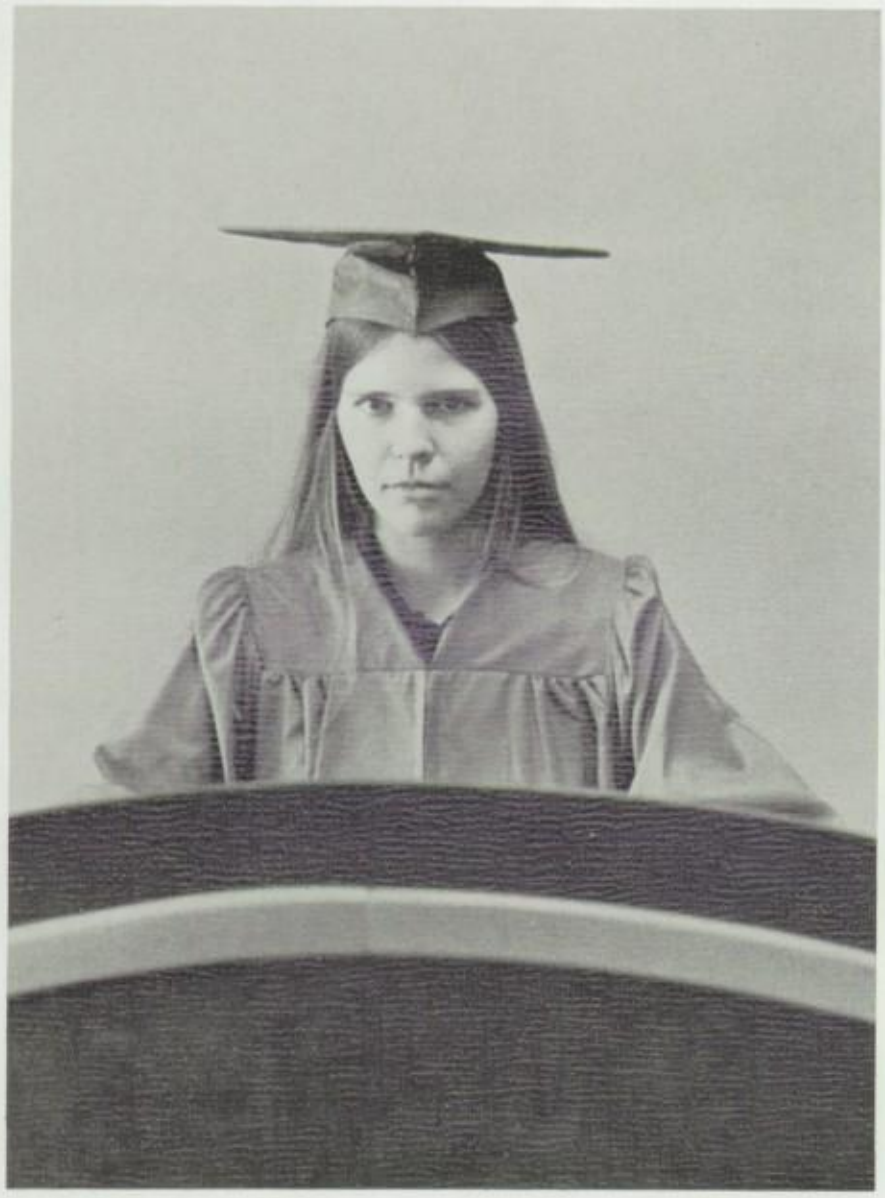
Graduates Say Final Farewell On June 5

I've always looked forward to graduation because the big event means we've finally made it. I inwardly feel a twinge of sorrow though as graduation marks another year gone by and another gray hair on my head. Some seniors don't seem to realize what an important event graduation is. All their thoughts become centered on getting out of those hot gowns. Here they gather for the last time as the graduating class of 1975, but years from now when this event, as well as old friends, become faded memories, will they think back on graduation as a landmark, bringing about either a new beginning or an abrupt end?



Valedictorian Stephanie Nelson was first commencement speaker.

Tomorrow's Dream

Who knows what our tomorrows may bring?
Purpose or pleasure; what road will we take?
Futures can be such mysterious things
And who knows what dreams lie ahead.
Are they only pictures we create in our minds?
Thoughts are true secrets of things untold;
But share them we shall; to the world we unfold.
Yesterdays are behind us, todays are fleeting fast;
But tomorrows are out there, we hope they will last.

School Honors Top Seniors At Graduation

Athletes get the cheers and Student Council gets out of classes, but I'll be the first Panther to tell you that in the end, the last month of the school year, the scholars get their due reward. Top students from all classes are honored at the annual "Academic Achievement Dinner," held this spring on May 14. But just before graduation, Skyline salutes the "Top Ten" academically. These same students, with the top grade point averages for four years of high school, bring honor to themselves, their families, and most of all, to youth in general. So before I go, it is fitting that I salute these fine students and the many more who attained honor roll.

Graduating honors for academics are the top ten scholastically in the class. For 1975 they are Stephanie Nelson, Steve Eddy, Arthur Smet, Mary Stoneburg, Alisa Bailey, Rick Jennings, Laurie Forbes, Marcia Limkeman, Kim Heyninck, Tim Ramos.

More North Campus students on the lam go to Dixie Cream than any other place—so it must be good.

Johnson Sheet Metal Works Inc. is truly a hometown industry. From a humble beginning 58 years ago in 1917 where the Pizza Castle is now located at the foot of Seventh Street hill, growth necessitated relocating several times within the city. Two years ago, the company moved to its modern new building on Morton Drive at the east end of East Moline. Johnson's provides sheet metal fabrication for large and small construction projects throughout Illinois and Iowa.

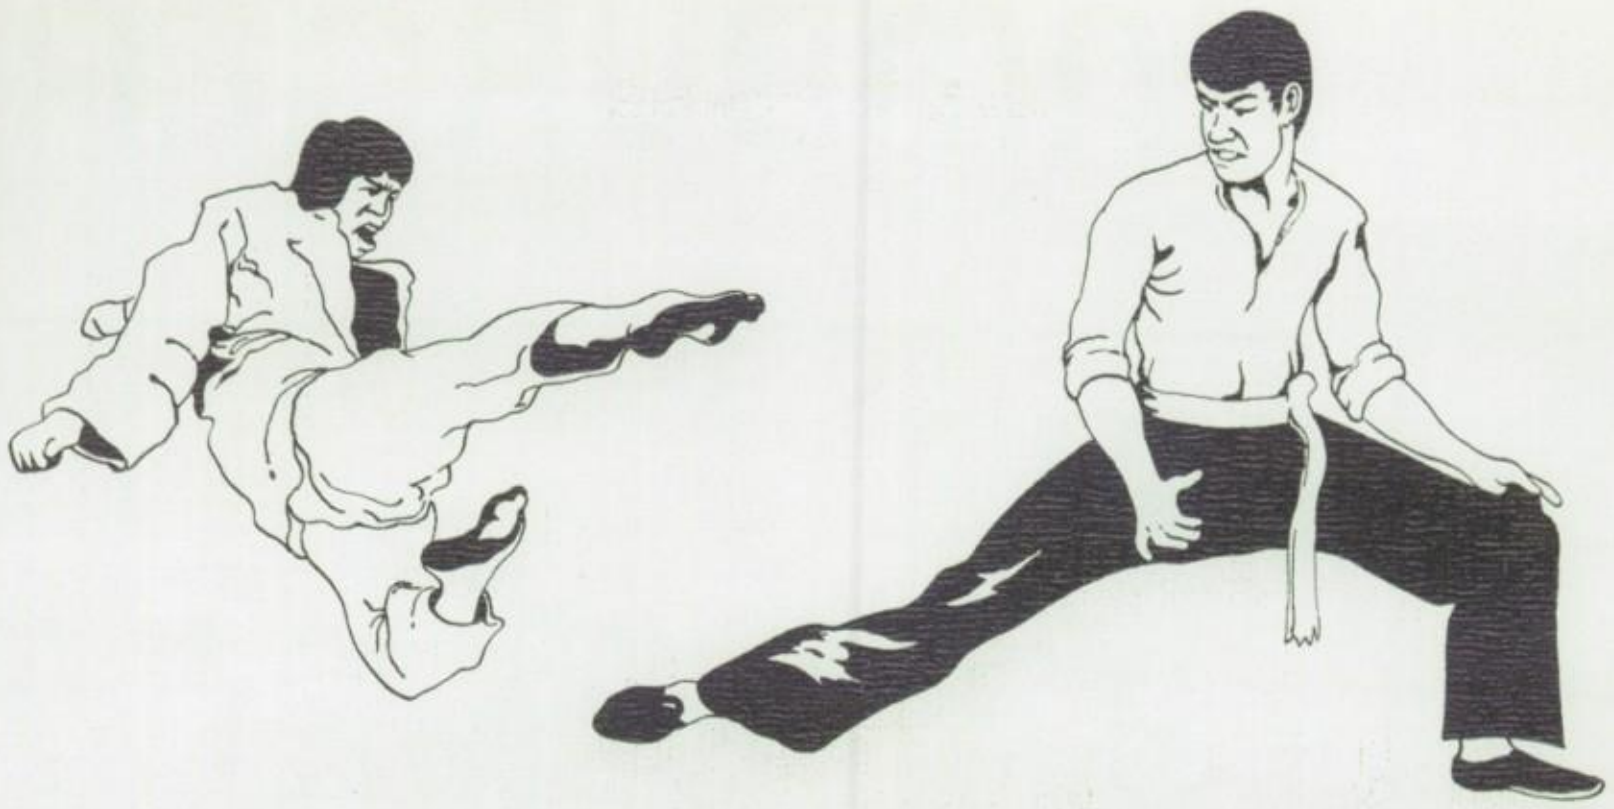
McDonald's

Sometimes when a business gets so big, it loses touch with the people and the quality of the product doesn't hold up. Not so with McDonald's. This fast food operation continues to be the biggest nationally, but hasn't sacrificed quality and service while remodeling all locations. Making a dent in the 15 billion hamburgers sold is the Moline McDonald's on 23rd Avenue. Two all beef patties, special sauce, lettuce, cheese, pickles, onions, on a sesame seed bun. Boy, we finally got it right.



Not so many years ago, Warren Williams was a star athlete at UTHS. Now, after military training and service in the Orient, Warren is back in East Moline. While he is going to college on the G.I. Bill, Warren is a Black Belt Karate instructor in his Okinawan School of Karate at 1118 15th Avenue in East Moline. The school is open Tuesday and Thursday nights and Saturday afternoons and stresses gracefulness and quality in the art of self defense.

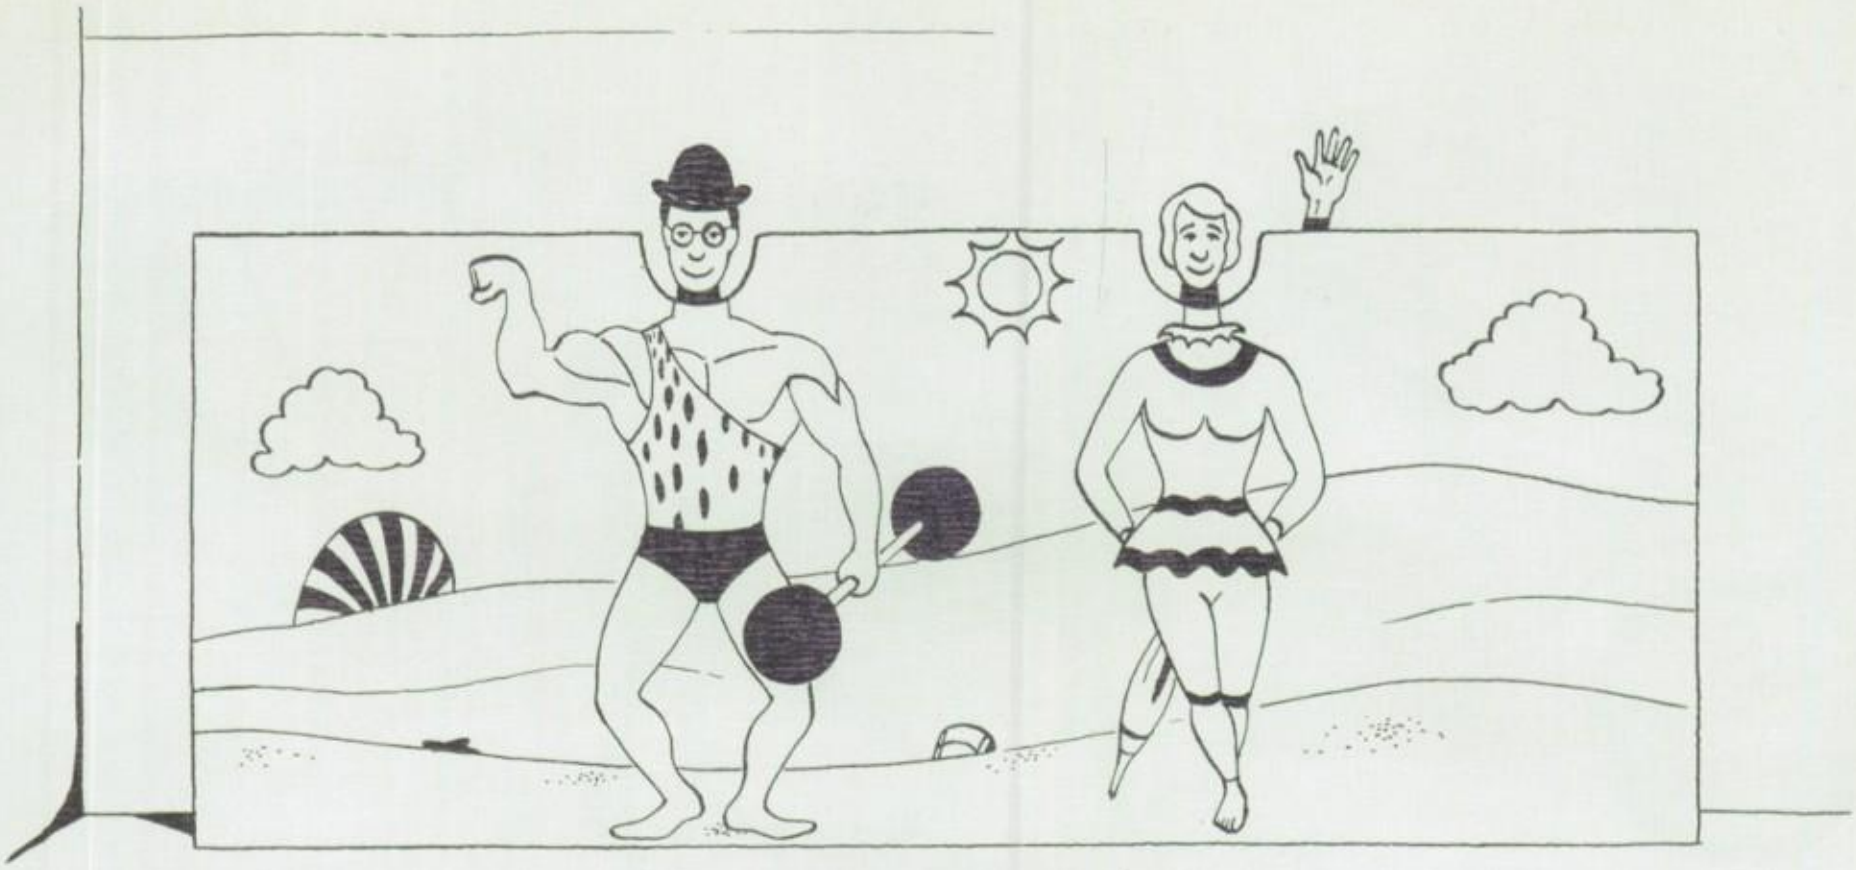
HAMBURGERS

Mr. Quick's

When the local guy makes good, it makes everyone feel proud. In the case of Mr. Quick drive in restaurants, the local operation has expanded to a highly successful Regional Chain with 67 locations throughout 9 states. It all started with Mr. Quick's on 42nd Avenue East Moline. Not only do UTHS students find this location handy, but it is also very easy to stop by the Hero Street Quick in Silvis.

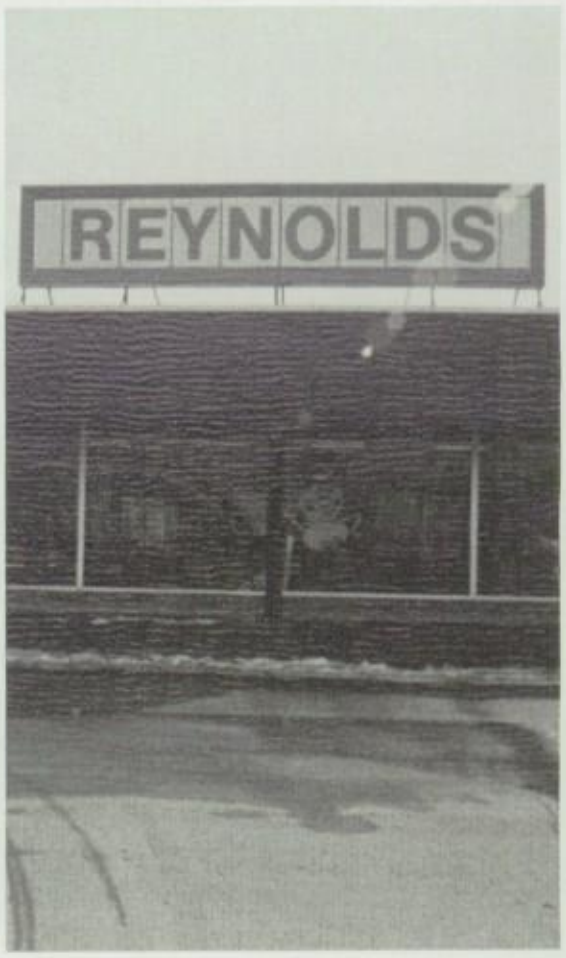


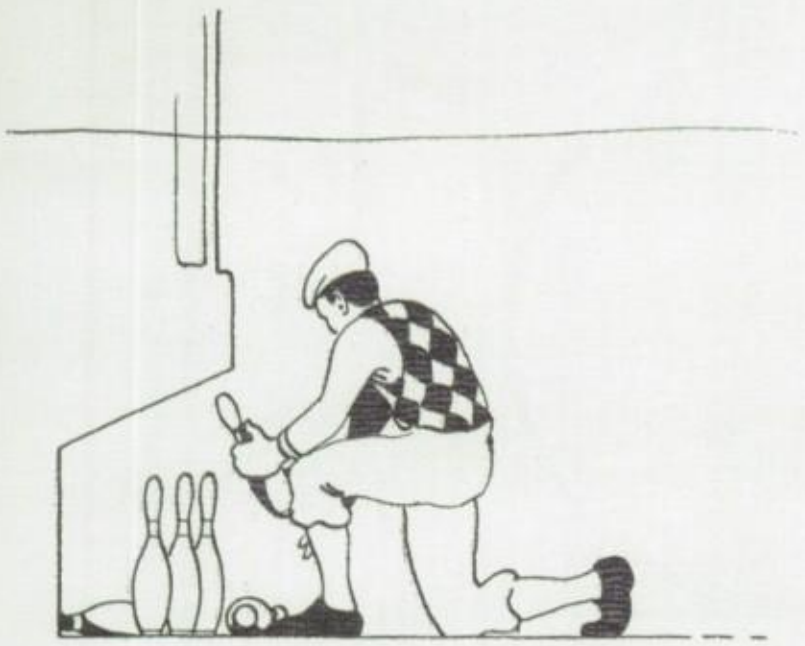
Photography by Fyre

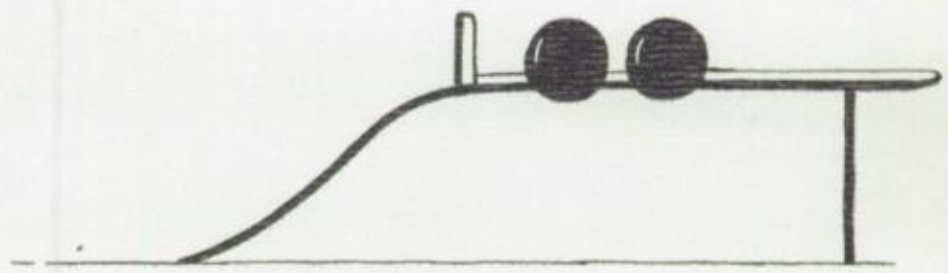
Less than a year ago, the Fyre brothers returned to their home town and cast their lot in the business world. Both UTHS graduates, they saw the need for a camera store and photography studio in downtown East Moline. Their hunch and hard work paid off as the first year has proven very successful. Fyre Photography offers competitive prices on all equipment, lessons, and complete portrait and wedding services.

Reynold's Ford

Ford has had to adjust with the economy just like the rest of us. There was a time when Boss Mustangs and Shelby GT's cruised the streets, but now economical Pintos and newly designed Granadas meet the needs of the public. Big or small, luxury or thrifty, the "little profit" dealer in East Moline, Reynolds Ford, has the "better ideas." Reynolds offers fine new and used cars, complete service, as well as the integrity of a hometown dealership.







Many UTHS graduates never reach great heights. Some do. Not only was Sam Gnatovich a leader during his high school days, but he carries this enthusiasm right on in business. Today, he stands behind a most successful recreation complex. For people passing by on 23rd Avenue, it is Sam's Highland Park Bowl. We know it as fun. There's something for every age—complete buffet meals, a pizza parlour, 48 bowling lanes, a game area, and night club. When's the last time you were at Sam's?

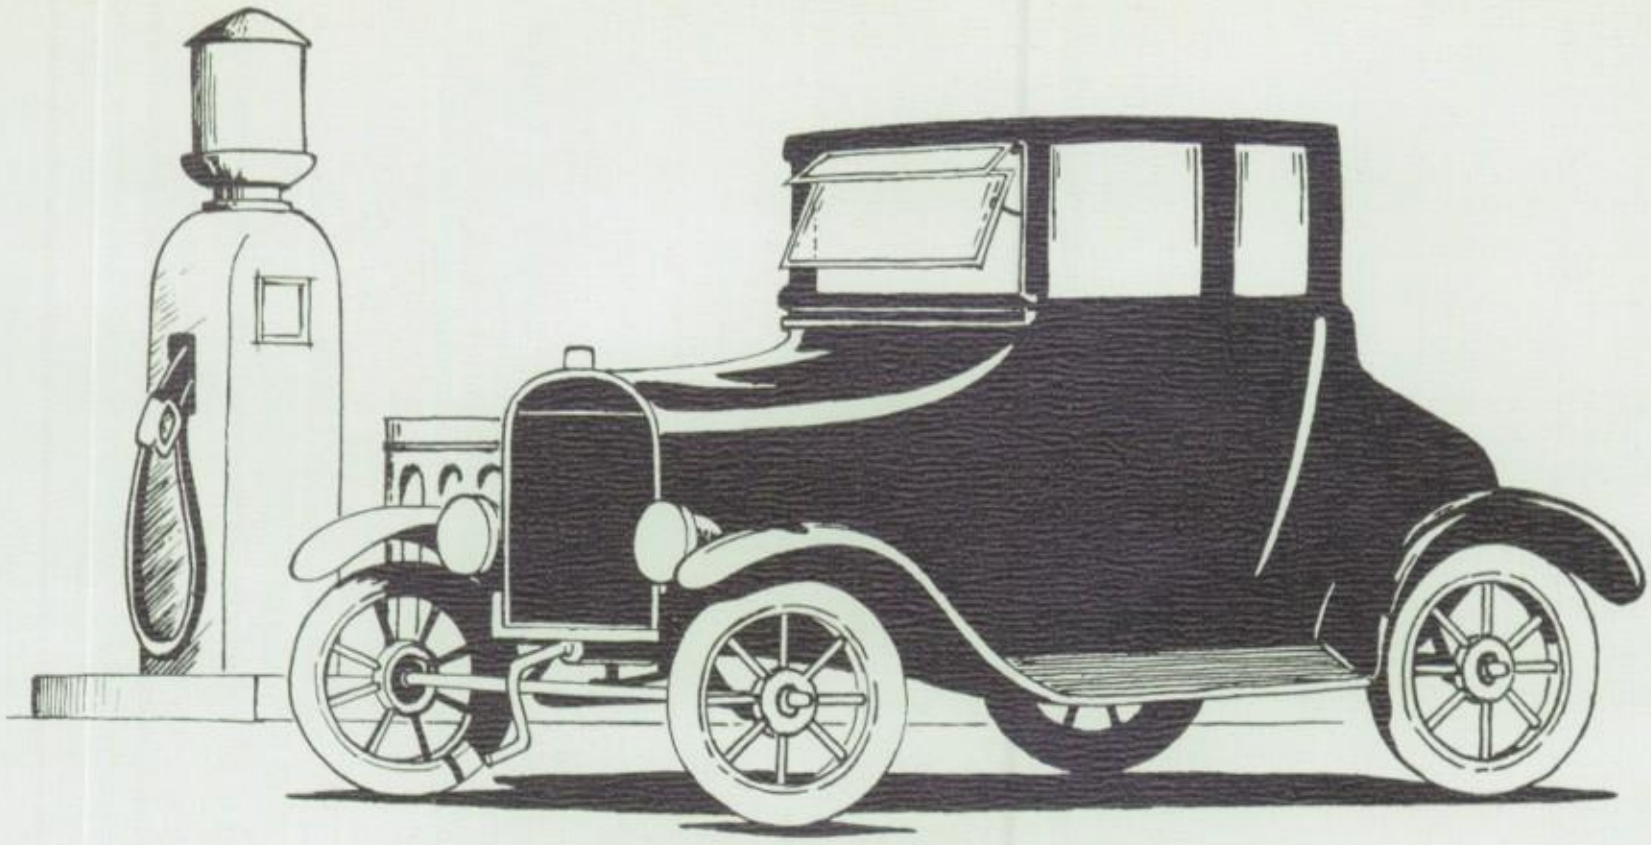
Stevenson's Skicycle Shop

Hard work and positive thinking can go together to make something special. The Stevenson brothers have never been afraid of a challenge. For John and Jim, both former UTHS graduates, a wholesale specialty item business out of their own truck turned into a retail venture. In three short years they turned this plan into the Quad Cities largest and most complete camping, bicycle and skiing business. Not only do Stevenson's provide a wide line of products, they provide the much needed complete service department to back their products up. Stevenson Ski-Cycle Shop is located on 16th Street in Moline.



Making sense for America this year, Chevrolet offers an expanded line of economical cars. The successful Vega and Nova still are among the best selling American cars. Now, a sub-compact car, the Monza has emerged into a successful seller. Monza offers gas saving features with European styling to make it a competitive with Chevrolet's mainstays, the full sized Monte Carlo and ever popular Corvette. East Moline's Chevrolet dealership, Warren Chevrolet, has a car or truck for every person or every need.

Patron Advertisers

As important as the patrons were to the arts, so has been and will be the role of the patron advertisers to school publications. Their encouragement, both morally and financially, enables school publications to keep costs in line while producing the best possible product at the most reasonable price. Skyline encourages students, graduates and friends to shop these businesses.

Student Council officers carried out the spirit of free enterprise during Student Council week selling "Lonnie and the Lugnutz" fifties tee shirts. This year's officers were Tony Hart, Treasurer; Sue O'Brien, Secretary; Steve McClure, President; and Amy Dobereiner, Vice President.

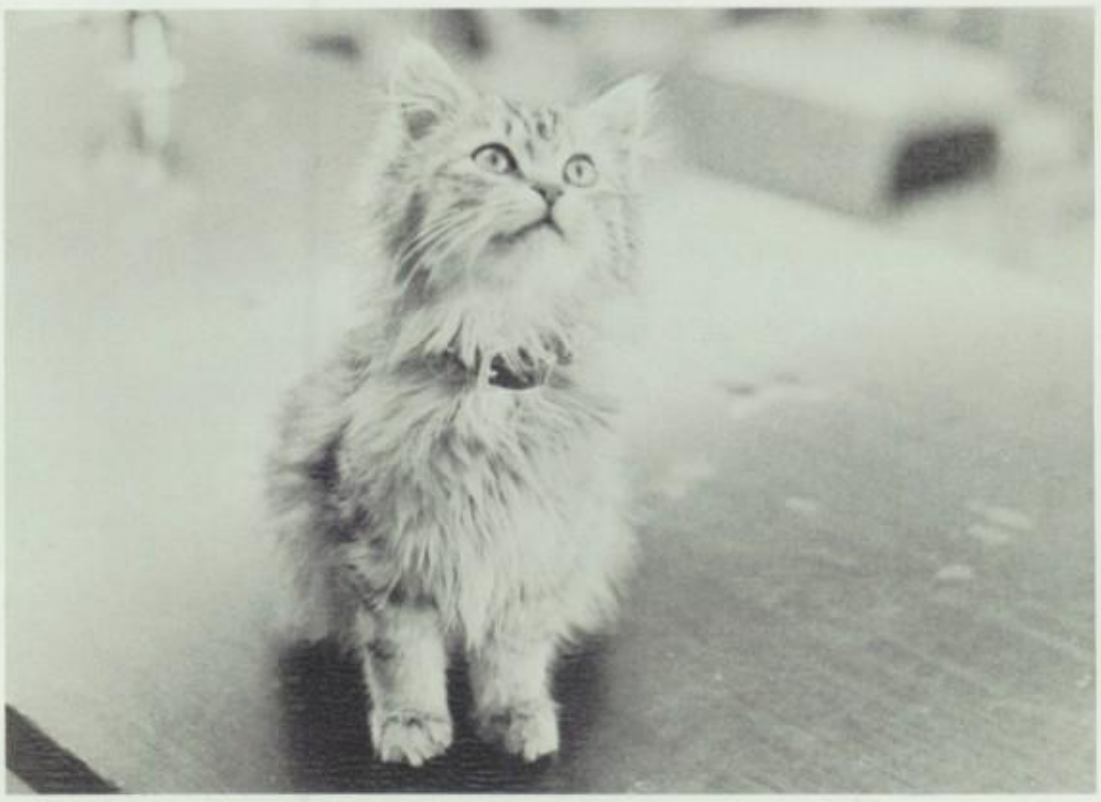
All the greasers show up for "Nostalgia Day" during the annual Student Council Week.

Hang in there Pete.



Yesterday

Yesterday was filled with countless hours of hard work. Sawing off barn board and running to meet the deadlines were some of the exciting moments.

Today

Today I sit and wonder if you realize how many people the yearbook involves. Among these were John Adolphi and Ron Chappell of Adolphi Studio, Mr. A. T. Berghult, Mr. Lee O. Dawson, Mike Cummings and Frank Pompa, Mr. Bill Mullins of Newsfoto Yearbooks, the janitors and most of all George S. Miller, who kept us hanging in there 'til the end.

Tomorrow

Tomorrow when I take this dusty old book off the shelf, I will remember the good times of Skyline 1975. After all those are the memories that count. Even though Skyline has created memories for me, it has recorded them for you, so that you can reminisce about today, tomorrow.

Kim K. Rotz
